Five Men Made $33,000,000 in Oil Deal

BODY OF SUPPOSED LOWELL MAN, DEAD FOR MONTHS, IS FOUND

Had Been Covered By Snow in Manchester, N. H.—
Throat and Wrists Slashed, Razor Clutched—Suicide
Theory Advanced—Letter and Money in Pockets

(Special to The Sun)
MANCHESTER, N. H., March 26.—The body of an unidentified man, his throat and wrists slashed, was found in sitting posture in a wooded spot here early last night. He had been dead for months, the coroner says. A letter in his pocket, addressed to Kalle Makola, 30 Mason's court, Lowell, Mass., is the only clue to his identity. The body was half covered by a pile of snow. The razor believed to have been used was clutched in the dead man's hands. Police are inclined to a suicide theory and have asked the Lowell authorities to co-operate in establishing identity.

Body in Morgue
Medical Referee Powers said that the man had been dead two or three months and ordered the body removed to Concord morgue. His finding is "probable suicide." A small sum of money was found in the pockets and the police say the man is believed to have worked as a lumberjack at Hooksett earlier in the winter. The body was found in an open lot.

ORDINANCE TO DIVIDE CHARITY DEPARTMENT DEFEATED

City Council Defeats Measure in Special Meeting—
Councillor Sadlier Gives Notice of Reconsideration
—Three City Officials Drawn as Jurors

The ordinance which proposed to divide the charity department into two separate departments with a superintendent to be named for the Chelmsford street hospital, was beaten at a special city council meeting last night by a vote of 8 to 5. The republican delegation of six, augmented by Councillors Galleher and Hennessy, outvoted the five proponents present at the meeting and although Councillor Frederick A. Sadlier gave notice of reconsideration at the next meeting, it is now believed that the eight votes in opposition will "stay put" and finally defeat it when reconsideration comes. With Councillors Daniel Cosgrove and Thomas McFadden absent from the meeting, Councillor Sadlier, steering man for the measure, attempted to have it left on the table. Opponents forced the issue, however, and called for immediate action. A motion to adjourn was defeated and after a short recess the ordinance itself went into the discard by the vote above quoted.

ROXIE STINSON TELLS OF FIVE MEN MAKING $33,000,000 IN OIL DEAL

Divorced Wife of Jess Smith Gives Hint of Big Deal
at Hearing Today—Says Smith and Daugherty
"Sore" Because They Were Not in On Deal

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A hint of an oil deal in which "five men made $33,000,000" in the fall of 1922, was brought before the Daugherty investigating committee today by Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of the attorney general's friend and political lieutenant, Jess W. Smith.

The witness said Smith had told her of such a transaction and that she understood it had to do with stock in the Sinclair interests which on April 1, 1922, leased the Fort Pol Dome. She added that Smith had said he and the attorney general were "sore" because the men who made the money were friends of theirs, but had not let them in on the deal. She could not name them.

The fitting reference to the $33,000,000 affair was made in the midst of a session which otherwise had lacked much of the momentum of Miss Stinson's testimony.

Officials Say Conferences
Were Separate—No State-

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Attorney General Daugherty and Senator Lodge conferred with President Coolidge today, but White House officials said their conferences were separate, and that the republican leader's conference did not concern Mr. Daugherty's situation. Mr. Daugherty said his conference was "about routine matters."

Some weeks ago, Senator Lodge was one of those sent to the White House by the senate republicans to inform the president of the growing demand at the capital that Mr. Daugherty quit office, but there was nothing to indicate whether the same subject was discussed with Mr. Coolidge today.

—15 of Crew Rescued—
23 Others Missing

LONDON, March 26.—A message to Lloyd's from the North Foreland wireless station reports that a Japanese steamship sank after colliding with the German steamship Heimdale, near Dungeness in a dense fog last night. The Heimdale took off 15 members of the Japanese crew, said the message, and arrived at Dover this morning with her bows damaged.

There were no signs of the remainder of the Japanese crew, who are believed to have been asleep at the time of the collision and to have gone down with the ship.

A later message said the sunken steamer was the Tokufuku Maru, bound from Bremen for Japan, and that 23 of her crew were missing.

Lloyd's register lists the Tokufuku Maru as a steel vessel of 5555 gross tonnage. She was last reported to have arrived at Rotterdam on March 3.

APPROPRIATION BILL REPORTED BY HOUSE CARRIES $30,344,000

Sharp Reduction in Expenditures by Veterans' Bureau, the Shipping Board and Several Other Government Agencies Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A sharp reduction in expenditures by the veterans' bureau, the shipping board and several other government agencies, is proposed in the reported offices appropriation bill reported today to the house. The measure carries $30,344,000, or $102,224,188 less than last year's appropriation and $211,741 less than budget estimates.

Of the total $30,344,000 would go to the veterans' bureau, a reduction of $3,353,086 under a year ago. The shipping board and emergency steel corporation would be allotted $20,344,000 or $20,507,500 less than the last bill carried.

The bill provides $75,000 for President Coolidge's salary, $25,000 for his traveling expenses, $25,000 for his office and $21,000 for continuing expenses in the executive office and $55,540 for the pay for the White House police.

Other items include $225,000 for the alien property custodian office; $947,115 for the civil service commission, $2,650,000 for the employees' compensation commission, $3,724,612 for the general accounting office, $808,100 for the housing corporation, $4,262,284 for the interstate commerce commission, $4,400,000 for the national advisory committee for aeronautics, $322,200 for the railroad labor board, $730,051 for the Smithsonian institution, and $681,980 for the tariff commission.

Shipping board salaries were scaled down. The bill provides that only one official can be paid more than $25,000 a year, two more than $20,000 and four more than $18,000.

The bill carries $31,000,000 for compensation to war veterans and $38,000,000 for insurance.

The bill provides $39,000,000 for vocational rehabilitation, $31,443,000 less than last year's appropriation. The decrease, the committee's report explained, is due to the closing of schools and getting men out of training and into employment.

In its report, the committee said that only 600,000 insurance policies of the 4,500,000 taken out by service men and women during the war, are still in force. The committee estimated that due to the decrease in receipts from premiums, more than $90,000,000 a year will have to be appropriated for payment of term insurance for the next 17 years.

Action Follows Adverse Vote

constantly obliged to ask confidence, fell on a comparatively trivial issue.

The chamber was considering a revision of the civil and military pensions, with only a couple of hundred members present. Socialist deputy Bouysseou demanded that the measure under consideration be referred to the finance committee to be considered in connection with the senate bills on the same question.

Finance Minister De Lastovrie, in charge of the measures objected, he pointed out that the senate bill involved a heavier outlay than those in the chamber.

Polignac was not present, but the finance minister declared himself obliged, in line with the economy policy of the government, to make the question one of confidence.

When the vote was announced showing that the government had been defeated by seven votes—264 to 271—there was surprise, with consternation on the majority benches, while the radicals and socialists cheered and cried "Resign! Resign!"

The finance minister reported to his chief, who called the cabinet together and it was decided to resign. They proceeded to the palace of the Elysee and went into a cabinet council with President Millerand and to whom M. Polignac presented the cabinet's resignation.

President Millerand insisted earnestly that the cabinet appear this afternoon before the chamber retaining power meanwhile. The president said he was ready to explain by a special message to both houses the reasons for this procedure.

After each cabinet minister had given his opinion the president retired and left the cabinet free to deliberate at its decision.

It was at the conclusion of this meeting that Polignac announced that his decision to resign was irrevocable.

After M. Polignac had taken to the president the resignation of the cabinet signed by all the members the president, according to precedent sent for President Doumergue of the senate and President Paret of the chamber to ask them for their advice as to the formation of a new cabinet.

The Polignac government, formed in January, 1922, to succeed that of Aristide Briand, has encountered stiff opposition during the last few weeks on its measures designed to stabilize the nation's finances and restore economic equilibrium. These measures, including bills to increase taxation 20 percent, effect economies totalling one billion francs and institute fiscal reform by simple decree without further authorization from parliament.

Prior to the beginning of its financial reform campaign, which it undertook because of the sensational decline of the franc, the government commanded overwhelming support in both houses, especially on M. Polignac's policy toward Germany and the reparations issue.

As President Doumergue of the senate left Elysee palace, after his conference with President Millerand regarding the formation of a new cabinet, he said:

"I had one impression which I communicated to President Millerand. It is that in the senate there is a strong current in favor of M. Polignac."

President Paret of the chamber was then admitted to confer with President Millerand and when he left the palace, he gave it as his opinion that a new Polignac cabinet seemed to be in the air.

"The cabinet itself," he added, "does not appear to have been placed in the minority this morning, especially if the rectifications of votes are taken into consideration."

Asks Polignac to Stay

PARIS, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Millerand asked M. Polignac to continue as premier when he received him at Elysee palace this afternoon.

On Use of Experts' Report

PARIS, March 26.—The fall of the government came just on the eve of the expected presentation by the Finance expert committee of its report for the reparations committee on Germany's financial and economic status and the committee's anticipated presentation of a program which it has been hoped would lead to an adjustment of the reparations question, solve the Ruhr difficulty, start Germany on a path of economic soundness and eventually bring about renewed economic stability in Europe.

Just what effect the withdrawal of the Polignac ministry at this crucial time may have upon the result of the expert committee's investigations and conclusions, remains to be developed.

Polignac Called to Palace

PARIS, March 26.—Raymond Polignac, whose ministry resigned today after a defeat in the chamber, was summoned to the palace late this afternoon by President Millerand. It was understood the president desired to urge him to reconsider his determination not to attempt the formation of another ministry.

Among the objects dug from the ruins are a number of parchments, one of which, written in 189 B.C., is said to be the oldest Greek manuscript extant. The scientists also uncovered a series of mural paintings of exceptional importance as a source of study of Byzantine art.

LOWELL JEWELERS AT STATE CONVENTION

Lowell jewelry store interests were well represented yesterday at the opening of the two-day convention of the Massachusetts Retail Jewelers' association, including the retail jewelers of Rhode Island, held at the Conkey-Plaza hotel, in the tenth annual business meeting. Officers are to be elected today.

Among local jewelers at the first day's rally were Adelbert H. Abbott, president of the Lowell Retail Jewelers' association, and Secretary Frank Ricard. Today, Lowell was again represented by members of the local association.

Mr. Ricard, at yesterday's meeting read his annual report covering the activities of the Lowell organization during the past year. Today, Mr. Ricard was one of the principal speakers at the meeting called for the election of new officers, and delivered an address on "Loan Watches."

Three representatives Lowell jewelers were appointed to participate in a Safety Week campaign, with Lowell chapter of committee in charge of arrangements. It was resolved to advertise freely in order to promote business.

The Ricard address today on the loaning of watches to customers leaving their own timepieces to be repaired or conducted, covered three important points and was interesting throughout. He said the custom of jewelers loaning timepieces in this way was obsolete.

Retail advertising campaigns in local newspapers were enthusiastically endorsed by the convention members yesterday. Better window displays, better window displays, and other plans for the distribution of goods, were also approved of.

COAL TEAMSTERS WILL MEET THIS EVENING

Coal Teamsters' union members are to meet this evening to take action upon the refusal of the Lowell Coal Dealers' association to increase wages of employees. Committees from the two organizations met last Monday night to discuss 1924 wage schedules. The former committee expired last Tuesday. The teamsters have presented demands for more wages and have had them turned down. As a result of the decision of the dealers not to meet the present demands of the teamsters, the union members will rally tonight at the call of President E. Frank J. Horn in Trades and Labor hall, Central street, to discuss what shall be done.

Herbert W. Horne leads the coal dealers' committee and President Horn the union committee. Members of the latter committee include Patrick Bradley, Thomas Cassidy, Martin Flannagan, George McEneaney and Thomas Vanciver.

Union members claim that Lowell teamsters and chauffeurs receive smaller wages for 54 hours work than the same classes of men employed in Boston, Malden, Lynn, Salem and Newton. Employees in the latter cities receive Saturday afternoon pay off, while Lowell men have no holidays.

The teamsters have announced that they have taken a decided stand on the wage question, claiming they cannot afford to increase wages at this time because of "poor business."

POISON VICTIM STILL IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Owing to the discovery of a bottle filled with a solution known as "sulphuric ether" in the room occupied by Charles A. Taylor, who was removed from his room at 12 West Third street, yesterday afternoon, to St. John's hospital, suffering from what was believed to be gas poisoning, some doubt is expressed by police and hospital authorities as to the cause of the victim's condition.

When found in his room yesterday afternoon, a gas jet was slightly open and it was at first believed that gas had partially asphyxiated him. With the discovery of the bottle of ether, however, this supposition is questioned.

Considerable mystery surrounds the poison victim as he has only been in this city a short while and his home and relatives are unknown. Since being removed to the hospital he has not recovered complete consciousness and has been unable to answer any questions. His condition is reported today as very serious.

The man is described as being about 40 years of age, medium height, weighing about 155 or 160 pounds, and of ruddy complexion, with hair of mixed brown and gray.

LOWELL MAN SENTENCED IN CAMBRIDGE COURT

In superior court at East Cambridge yesterday, Peter Tsandas of this city was fined $50 and sentenced to one month in the house of correction for illegally keeping and exposing liquor for sale. He was found guilty of the charge last week and continued for the hearing yesterday. Tsandas was the proprietor of a shoe repairing shop in Gorham street, where prohibition agents found a quantity of liquor early last month.

HELD BANQUET AND THEATRE PARTY

The first get-together and banquet of the Denison chapter was held in Mario's restaurant last evening where supper was served at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. William Spurling of the Eastman Kodak Co. was the guest of the evening. The young ladies of the Denison department of the art store in Merrimack street had arranged the dining hall tastefully and had also provided dainty arrangements and favors on the tables.

Following the supper, the gathering proceeded to Keith's theatre where the evening performance was enjoyed. So pleased were the members of the company with last evening's affair that it was unanimously voted to hold a similar one next year.

CHANCE TIME OF HARVARD-YALE RACE

CAMBRIDGE, March 26.—The Harvard-Yale varsity race on the "Haven" at New London, Conn., on June 20, may be raced as early as two o'clock in the afternoon. Fred W. Moore, graduate treasurer of athletics, pointed out today that high tide on that day would come at noon and that because of shoals along the course it was necessary to row the race within two hours of flood tide.

As a result of a meeting of Harvard and Yale officials at New Haven, yesterday it is considered likely that an agreement will be reached to row the race sometime before noon and at o'clock.

Committee Fails to Act On Impeachment Resolutions

to its investigation tomorrow to question several witnesses about reported "oil deals" during the 1920 republican national convention.

Meanwhile the house judiciary committee had before it the resolution adopted yesterday by the senate looking to impeachment of Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, as collector of customs at El Paso, Tex., and Dist. Atty. Gordon was preparing to press for grand jury action this week on the senate's charge of contempt against Harry P. Sinclair because of his refusal to testify before the oil committee.

The move for impeachment of Chase grew out of his refusal to answer questions put to him by the oil committee on the ground that his answers might incriminate him and it was made known after the senate had adopted its resolution asking the house to take such steps "as may be appropriate." That he had submitted his resignation to Assistant Secretary Moss of the treasury department, immediately after his appearance on the stand. The resignation has not yet been accepted.

The grand jury is considering the Sinclair contempt case and Dist. Atty. Gordon after conferring with the government's special oil counsel yesterday made plans to press for quick action.

At Jenkins, one time train robber in Oklahoma, who became an evangelist and was a friend of Jake Hamon, the late republican national committee man from that state, is expected to provide most of the testimony before the committee tomorrow about the convention "oil deal" gossip. Several other witnesses have been summoned in this connection, however, and Lewis W. Baldwin, president of the Empire Trust Co. of New York is to be asked about the security provided for a loan negotiated with his institution when the republican national committee incurred a deficit during the 1920 campaign.

Made $33,000,000 in Oil Deal

son's previous appearances as a star witness in the inquiry. Senator Wheeler, of Montana, the committee prosecutor, was kept at home with a cold and the examination for the most part proceeded quite peacefully.

The witness said at the outset that she wished to disclaim any previous intimations in the testimony that she had thought Smith met his death by any hand except his own. She was not, however, killed himself, she said, but believed Mr. Daugherty was "morally responsible" for his determination to kill himself.

When he came to Washington, Miss Stinson said Smith was worth some $125,000, but when he was found dead in the attorney-general's apartment in the last Memorial day, an inventory of his property showed a total valuation of $24,000. Asked whether she thought there were other items omitted from the inventory she said she would rather not reply.

She replied in the negative when asked by Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, whether she knew that a note was found in Smith's pocket after his death and never was turned over to the authorities.

A good part of the session was taken up with the reading of letters Smith had written her on the attorney-general's department of justice stationery. They referred largely to personal matters.

Opening of Today's Session
WASHINGTON, March 26.—Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Harry M. Daugherty's friend, Jess W. Smith, continued before the Daugherty investigating committee, her story of Smith's relations to the attorney-general and the department of justice.

The session lacked some thrills of those at which Miss Stinson previously has testified, because Senator Wheeler of Montana, the committee prosecutor, was sick in bed.

Blame Daugherty for Suicide
Before the questioning of the witness began, Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, read into the record a transcript of testimony put before the oil committee, having to do with stock purchases of Daugherty and Smith. The stock accounts were under the name of "W. W. Spald" of the stock brokerage firm of Hibbs & Co., and one of them was identified as a joint account of the attorney-general and Smith, which, accountants said, might have resulted in a loss of $24,000 on oil stocks.

Miss Stinson began by declaring that despite suggestions to the contrary, she believed Smith committed suicide. She reaffirmed her belief that this morning from her home, 163 Cushing street, Salem high funeral mass was celebrated in St. Jean Baptiste church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Rev. Gratton, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Rev. Gratton, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. Rev. Fr. Firoux of the Redemptorists was seated in the sanctuary. The body was taken to the funeral home of Joseph A. Yon's mass. The soloists were Mrs. Edith Pugin, Mrs. Maria Jacobs, Mrs. Geo. F. Arthur, Arthur G. Lebour, and the bearers were: Sylvia and Edward Lebour, Leo and George Dinn, George Leonard and George Lecky, all grandsons of the deceased.

Smith was found dead a year ago in the apartment occupied by him and Daugherty.

Smith had put his house in order very carefully just before his death, she witness said, and she based her judgment that he took his own life on that circumstance.

She repeated that Smith was laboring under a great strain resulting from his relations with the transaction she previously has described to the committee.

Smith Killed Himself
"I was your belief that Jess Smith committed suicide?" Chairman Brookhart reiterated.

"Yes sir," Miss Stinson said. "So far as I am concerned, I am sure that he did take his own life. However, I also consider Harry Daugherty morally responsible for his death."

Chairman Brookhart asked her to give details as to the property of Smith before he came to Washington, remarking that by her testimony he had left an estate of between $125,000 and $140,000. The witness produced an inventory, which she explained in detail.

When he went to Washington, she said, he had "some coal stock worth $10,000," and some 500 shares in another company, "appraised at $20,000 but worth more than that."

He possessed a share of a dry goods store which he sold for $40,000, she continued. "I had 2,000 shares and two cottages worth $3500. He might have had a few stocks on margin and other minor things, inconsequential."

"Now, what did he have when he came to Washington?" asked Brookhart.

"There was $63,000 in Liberty bonds at the Riggs bank," said the witness. "and 310 shares of Pure Oil, worth $5844, then there was 200 Central Leather, worth $1000."

"According to figures on coming to Washington," Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire put it, "Mr. Smith had about $136,000."

Miss Stinson agreed.

Had $214,000 at Death
Senator Moses then pointed out that the inventory of the estate showed he had at least $214,000, and Senator Jones, republican, Washington, asked if the witness had reason to believe that Smith left property not covered in the inventory. After a brief hesitation, she said he preferred "not to answer that."

"Are the 75 $1000 bills you testified Mr. Smith had listed in the inventory?" asked Senator Ashurst.

"No."

"Do you not know what became of them?"

"I do not."

"Do you know the name of the gentleman who was present when Jess Smith died?"

"Yes, Mr. Martin, Mal Daugherty tells me, was present."

Martin is private secretary to the attorney-general.

Sensor Moses asked if there was a "money belt" found in Smith's personal effects. Miss Stinson said she did not know.

Any day, Daugherty has said I am an angry woman because I wasn't his sole heir," she remarked.

"If you have reason to believe he had other property I'd like you to state it," said Senator Jones.

"I'd rather not answer."

The witness said she told Mal Daugherty that she thought they would find "something for me" in Smith's deposit box. She insisted, however, that Smith had never led her to believe that "I would be his sole heir."

"Do you know that there was a note found in Mr. Smith's pocket when he died?" Senator Jones asked.

"I don't know there was a will found in his handwriting, made on Monday and he passed away Wednesday. It appeared this will was different from the one giving $25,000 to Atty. Gen. Daugherty.

"It was the duty of those who had charge to file this for the court's inspection," said Senator Ashurst.

Smith Letters Read
Miss Stinson said this will, though considered invalid, had been shown to the courts.

Chairman Brookhart put in a letter written by Smith to Miss Stinson dated in December, 1922, telling her to "sell White Motor and hold Pure Oil."

"No, that's why we're here," she said. "They were all our friends," she quoted Smith as replying.

Another "less" letter, dated Jan. 29, 1923, described Smith's sale of his Washington farmhouse, Ohio, store, saying he had "lost some money" on the transactions, but was well satisfied.

Made $33,000,000 in Oil Deal
Miss Stinson said that Smith told her on one occasion that "five men had made $33,000,000 in a Sinclair oil deal in the fall of 1922."

She had asked Smith, she said, "were you and Harry in on it?"

"No, that's why we're here," she said. "They were all our friends," she quoted Smith as replying.

Senator Jones asked Miss Stinson to name the five men, and who said she "was not sure" of them.

"Was New Mexican one of them?" "I'm not sure."

WE MAY COMMUNICATE BY TINY WAVES FROM OUR BODIES

GEORGES LAKHOVSKY, RADIO SCIENTIST, AND SKETCHES OF THE BAT AND MOSQUITO WHICH, LAKHOVSKY SAYS, MAY BE GUIDED BY RADIATIONS FROM THEIR PREY.

By N.E.A. Service
PARIS, March 25.—Man is a wireless transmitter.
The time may come when man also will be a wireless receiver, tuned in to receive the tiny radio waves that are emitted by other bodies and to com-

...tures emit tiny radio waves and that many already communicate with one another, or are attracted to others, by means of these emanations.
Radio Bats
"Physiology" touches us that our sense of direction, of balance, of equilibrium is due to certain tiny canals in the ear," says Lakhovsky. "It suggests to me that these may play the part of wireless receivers. Many insects have antennae that are more than feelers. They are wireless receivers and senders in all probability. Many birds and animals are guided by special radiations, not by instinct, or a peculiar sense, he says. Owls and other night birds get their food by help of the waves emitted by their prey, he points out.
Some naturalists say bats are guided by their fine hearing and sense of smell. But Lakhovsky says he watched them in Paris while the noise and odors of insects filled the air. Yet the bats caught insects in the air, guided, he believes, by radiations of their prey.
Wave Talk
"Professor Blondlot," he goes on, "has maintained that man emits radiations that he calls 'N-rays.' This suggests to me that man, too, some day may be able to communicate by means of his own waves, just as I think insects and other living things do now.
"When that day comes doctors may learn to distinguish between the waves emitted by a well man and those of a sick person. And by using contras-

Buick Character Makes Buick Value

Buick value is something more than appears on the surface. It is more than the excellence and beauty of Buick design—more than the greater riding comfort, power and safety that Buick provides. Buick's value comes from the sum total of all those Buick qualities and traditions which together make up Buick character. A Buick owner fully appreciates Buick character. He knows the dependable, satisfying and trouble-free transportation which Buick gives, however long or however far a Buick owner may elect to drive his car.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE OF ALL SOULS CHURCH

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Alliance of All Souls church in the parish house yesterday afternoon, Miss Cooper, the speaker of the afternoon gave a complete resume of the Harper prize novel for 1923, "The Able McLaughlins."

Previous to the interesting talk by Miss Cooper, routine matters were transacted with Mrs. Robert Staples, president, in the chair.

Miss Cooper outlined her characters and their action in the story so vividly that her audience in most instances clearly pictured the theme as it written before them. The book, dealing with the upbringing of eight children, together with the hardships experienced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McLaughlin, who live on the prairie prior to the Civil War, is most interesting and Miss Cooper's interpretation of it was greatly appreciated by the members of the organization.

Following the talk, tea and refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

The last meeting of the year will be held the last Tuesday in April and will be the annual business meeting.

Can Any Knowledge Benefit You More Than This?

Is there anything of more value to you than that of knowing everything about the food you eat? How it is made—and from what it is made?

If you knew the source of certain foods, you probably would not eat them. Take, for example, the fat you use to fry your foods. As you know, the flavor of the food and its digestibility depend on the FAT used to fry the food.

Isn't it a pleasant thought to know that the tremendous popularity of Mazola is due to the fact that it is a pure vegetable oil from an edible source.

By edible source is meant that Mazola comes from the hearts of golden corn. If you like "corn-on-the-cob" you can't help liking Mazola.

Mazola is not a grease—and does not make fried foods greasy. It is a wholesome, pure fat—an oil that is so palatable and health-giving that many mothers give a spoonful or two to their growing children.

Every can of Mazola reaches you in a sealed-tight, sanitary tin, and you, the consumer, are the first person to touch its contents.

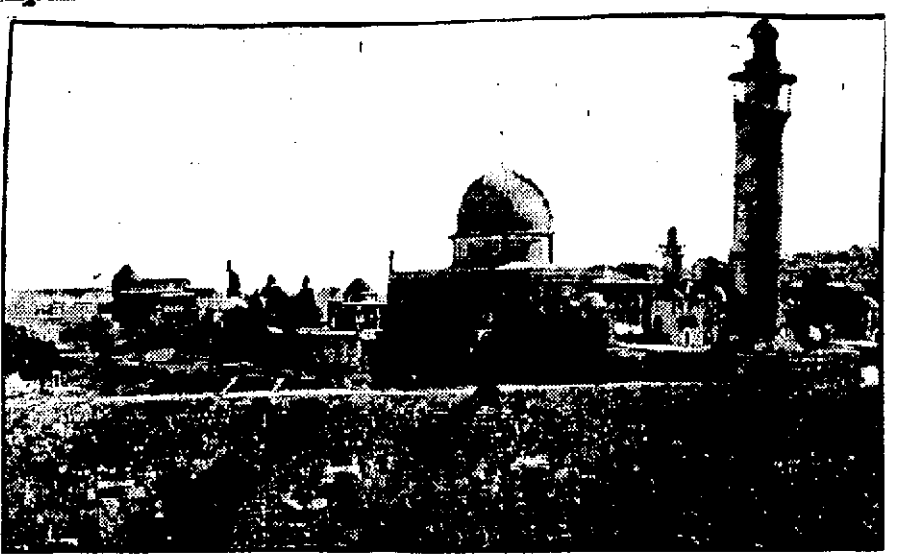

Once you try the modern method of frying with Mazola you will never go back to using grease.

AN IMPORTANT FACT

"Mazola is as delicious and good to eat as the corn from which it comes."

LENT IN THE HOLY LAND

THE TEMPLE AREA, JERUSALEM, from the north. The ground occupied by Solomon's Temple has been accurately preserved by its walls, but the temple itself was destroyed and rebuilt repeatedly, as the city fell into the hands of enemies and was recaptured. The large building is the Mosque of Omar, or Dome of the Rock, built in the seventh century by Amir Abdalamek, and is a noted Mohammedan shrine. Its site is that originally covered by Solomon's Temple.

SACRED CONCERT AFTER THE LENTEN SEASON

The committee in charge of the fourth degree exemplification under the auspices of Bishop Delany assembly of this city, met last night and furthered plans for the big event which is to take place in the Memorial Auditorium on May 1. It was voted to hold a sacred concert soon after the Lenten season, Mrs. Ella Reilly Torg being named to look after the program. Plans for a sing party were also discussed and a committee consisting of James E. Donnelly, Edward P. Slattery, Jr., Patrick J. Nevin and Thomas J. Tobin, was appointed to have charge of the choir at the exemplification ceremonies on May 4th. The next committee meeting will be held Tuesday night of next week.

Your Health
by Dr. C.C. Robinson

EFFECT OF DREAMS

There is no doubt that at times some forms of bodily disease, which are a real menace to health, are disclosed by dreams.

What are classed by the psychologists as recurrent dreams are sometimes, in certain types of persons, a real indication of a trouble or disease.

Recurrent dreams are those which apparently are able to focus the dream world or thought, which is our real world while we sleep, on the existent trouble.

In one case, the dream came to the sleeper every few nights for a period of two weeks. He felt a gnawing sensation in the abdominal region. This dream would always cause him to awake and at times, he admitted he even felt pain, where the gnawing sensation occurred.

The attending physician decided to try the X-ray and an ulcer was discovered and a successful operation performed.

There is no doubt that dreams are frequently caused by some glandular trouble.

Where such dreams occur and are recurrent, a glandular diagnosis should be made, if the one afflicted is at all in doubt as to some trouble that affects the physical health.

Helpful Advice to Overworked Women

MRS. C. E. CHAPMAN
1820 Elm St., New Albany, Ind.

DAY in and day out, week in and week out the tired, over-worked housewife and mother toils on, sweeping, dusting, cooking, cleaning and mending. Is it any wonder that after a time a weakness, such as Mrs. Chapman had, develops and the wife and mother pays a toll in physical weakness and pain for her efforts of love, the natural result of overwork?

Women who find themselves afflicted with weakness, pain, headaches, backache, nervousness, irritability and melancholia will be interested in Mrs. Chapman's letter, and should realize that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is especially adapted to overcome such conditions.

Mrs. Chapman's Letter Reads as Follows:

NEW ALBANY, IND.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a weakness which many women have from over work, and from which I suffered for quite a while. I wasn't fit to do my work and my sister advised me to take this medicine. After the first few days the pains were not so severe as they had been and after taking a few bottles I am not bothered any more. I am doing my housework every day and highly recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman suffering from female trouble. Only yesterday a friend called me on the phone and knowing what it did for me wanted to know what to ask for at the drug-store, as she meant to give it a trial."—MRS. C. E. CHAPMAN, 1820 Elm Street, New Albany, Indiana.

Another Case of Nervous Breakdown

MEMPHIS, TENN.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting. I could not do any of my work except a little at a time and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw a little book on to my porch and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself. I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."—MRS. O. J. HINCKLEY, 478 1/2 E. Georgia St., Memphis, Tenn.

HAVRE, March 26 (by the Associated Press).—The three British aviators, headed by A. Stuart MacLaren, who started from Calcutta, England, on a hydroplane world tour, left today for Lyons. The aviators, whose first day schedule called for a non-stop flight to Lyons, came down near Havre because of engine trouble. The weather was favorable and speedy trip to Lyons is expected.

BERGDOLL PREPARING TO COME TO "FACE MUSIC"

BERLIN, March 26.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll was believed today to be on the first stage of his return to the United States to "face the music" for his evasion of military service during the World War.

He left Eberbach yesterday for an unknown destination, carrying considerable luggage, after making preparations which indicated that he did not contemplate returning. Friends stated that the Badenese government, which was not keen to retain him as a resident, had issued a certificate of American citizenship enabling him to cross the frontier.

His departure was in the direction of Frankfurt and it was believed he would take a train for Hamburg and there board a steamship for New York. With him was his faithful shadow and chauffeur, Eugene Stecher.

Sigh of Relief

HEIDELBERG, Germany, March 26.—Badenese government officials breathed a sigh of relief today when it became known that Grover Bergdoll had pulled up stakes and departed for other spheres of activity.

They said they did not know where he had gone and furthermore didn't care.

No Reservations

BREMEN, March 26.—Officials of the North German Lloyd Steamship Co. declared Grover Bergdoll has made no reservations for passage on the steamship America, which sails today.

It is reported that the draft evader, traveling under an assumed name, boarded the America this morning, but this report is unverified.

GREEK INDEPENDENCE DAY OBSERVED

The 102d anniversary of the first independence of the Greek nation was not generally celebrated in Lowell and vicinity yesterday, but many members of the Greek colony remembered the day and its meaning to the country of their birth.

The first anniversary was celebrated as such by decision and order of the orthodox patriarch of Constantinople, and the Greek government of Athens, and not according to the old Greek calendar. On March 31, 1821, the Greek nation broke the oppression of the Ottoman yoke and independence was declared in national assembly.

Greece has dismissed government by royalty today and is on its way to the formation of a democratic government.

Miss Shirlee Deane, the leading woman, is a revelation in the role and is winning many friends daily at the two performances. The patronage has been well up to expectations and the advance demand for seats has been heavy.

Joseph Flynn, the leading man of the company, won many friends the opening night and added to this group at the two performances of yesterday. He is certain to prove a big local favorite. Yessie Parryell is another luminary that is making a great hit while the irresistible Charlie McDonald doesn't fail to bring down the house.

The play is a hummer from start to finish and abounds in snappy lines and delicately humorous situations as the name might intimate. Seats may be had by phoning the Academy. The sent sent for "The Cat and Canary," the great musical comedy, "Trene," will follow.

RIALTO THEATRE

Thrills! Laughter! They run a dead heat in the most exciting and ludicrous picture that Douglas MacLean, the star of stars, has yet appeared. Seats may be had by phoning the Academy. The sent sent for "The Cat and Canary," the great musical comedy, "Trene," will follow.

In "Going Up," MacLean is seen as Robert Street, the author of the year's most popular novel, "Going Up." In spite of the fact that Street is the author of this book, in reality he knows nothing about aeroplanes, but refuses to speak of it when he meets and falls in love with Grace Douglas, who just dotes on aviators. While at a summer resort where Street is being honored, since the guests assume that he is a capable flier, he is forced to keep up the bluff. Everything is quite alright until Jules Gaillard, a famous French ace, and Street's dangerous rival, arrives on the scene in his aeroplane. Friends of the two, anxious to see them exhibit their skill and curl-

ous to know which is the better flier, arrange a match race. Of course, right here is where the fun begins. Street is afraid to tell them he cannot fly, fearing such a revelation will ruin his career with Grace. How he extricates himself from this embarrassing predicament and wins the race, will keep any audience in continual laughter from start to finish.

No one will doubt MacLean's ability as a comedian after they see him in "Going Up." He'll make you laugh until you'll cry. Others in the cast include: William Conley, Marjorie Day, Furchie Mack, Wade Boteler and Edna Murphy.

Richard Talmadge, who is the star of "Let's Go," is seen in this picture, and during will never be old-fashioned. There is practically no stunt this star cannot perform and he does them himself. Having doubled for years for all of the famous stars in the pictures, he has kept daily in training. As a star himself he could only be doubled over his dead body.

Richard Talmadge does not spare himself in his pictures all of the stunts he performs, figures the mechanics of them and directs himself in all of these daring episodes. For one solid week he performed one hazardous stunt after another in "Let's Go" until an injury to his ankle laid him and the entire production up for four weeks. Supporting him in this picture, which is his first under his new contract, are Eileen Percy, Tully Marshall and George Nichols as members of an exceptionally fine cast.

A Fox Sunshine comedy and a Fox News are also included in the program.

THE STRAND

Colleen Moore's marked versatility may better be appreciated after seeing this young star in her newest screen creation, "Painted People," which will be shown for the last three times today at The Strand. As the young lady in "Painted People," Miss Moore made one of her biggest hits. As the young girl of the poor class who eventually becomes a famous actress, Miss Moore again demonstrates her exceptional talent in the silent drama. The second picture of genuine merit in the bill is "The Average Woman," in which Pauline Garon and Harrison Ford are appearing.

For the last three days of the week, starting with Thursday's matinee, Reginald Denny's big racing picture story, "Sporting Youth," will be the headline, and the second picture will be "Three O'Clock in the Morning." You will want many weeks before seeing a better combination than this. "Sporting Youth" is a characteristic Denny picture. It has all of the entertaining elements generally seen in pictures of this kind—actions and thrills galore, a delightful love romance, and wonderfully interesting characterizations. Denny, as usual, leads the way in them all, and he receives the help of a competent cast, including Laura La Plante, William Conley, Lucille Ward and others.

Constance Binney appears in "Three O'Clock in the Morning," and her work, as usual, is most commendable. The story centers about a young girl of good family, who is fond of gay parties and bright lights. Her fiancé accompanies her on these all-night parties, not because he is fond of them, but rather to be near his sweetheart. The danger of it and the bad results are cleverly told in this story.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

"Shadows of Paris," starring the noted actress, Pola Negri, in one of her most amazing productions, is playing to large crowds at the Merrimack Square theatre all this week. Miss Negri has never had a role more suitable to her varied talents than that of the impassioned young girl, equally at home in the salons of high French society or in the haunts of the Parisian underworld. She is the Pola Negri of the collection that first brought her fame, the Pola of dash, vivacity and enchantment.

THE WHITE HOUSE CAT

Now President Coolidge has lost his Tom cat
And no one can tell who's to blame for that;
But where G. O. P. leaders so frequently call,
And with hearings on laughter, Simlair and Fall
Like some others this feline, we've heard people say
Feared a senate subpoena and got out of the way;
And yet mingled with grief for the loss of this pet
Is the dread he's gone over to La Follette.

NO WAGE INCREASE

Mayor Donovan has nailed the economy banner to the mast and decided to stand by his guns to the last. He refuses to concede the demands for an increase in wages in the police and fire departments. He realizes the predicament in which he would find himself if he made an exception in favor of one or two departments and turned down all the others. For the present, therefore, it appears, there will be no material advances in wages. The decision to use the prior revenue fund in meeting the new requirement of the statutes in securing loans is perhaps the best application of that fund that could be made. His Honor insists that the amounts provided for the departments will suffice to keep them running satisfactorily during the year; but in order to attain that end some of them will have to economize as they seldom have done in the past. It is well to keep down government expenditures, particularly during a business depression, provided the work of the municipal department be kept abreast of the times and no important step forward is neglected. But Mayor Donovan to be consistent in his policy should not favor the creation of any new position which would call for needless expenditure of money that might otherwise be advantageously used in granting an increase of wages to the police and firemen, particularly the police.

It is to be regretted that so many people are to be disappointed but at the same time a policy of economy will benefit everybody by keeping down taxes which eventually reach the man who pays rent as well as the one who owns his home.

SEEKING PLATFORM ISSUES

The Outlook has started a movement to secure an expression of popular sentiment in reference to the principal issues that should be embodied in the platforms of the leading political parties in the national campaign. Doubtless, it will secure many expressions of opinion on almost every question on which it seeks information. These include transportation as to consolidation of the railroads, whether this should be compulsory or voluntary, whether the Fish-Commins act should be continued or whether the railroads should be nationalized with administrative co-operation by workers, shippers and the public in general.

The second question has reference to agricultural relief, the formation of a federal grain export corporation, federal aid for farmers' co-operative associations, federal purchase of wheat, price fixing of staple farm products, further extension of farm credits, development of the St. Lawrence waterways. On all these questions, the Outlook wants an expression of opinion as to approval or condemnation. The other issues submitted are taxation, the tariff, the bonus, prohibition, general welfare, education, immigration, preparedness, air-mail service, labor matters, program of the Ku Klux Klan, super-power transmission, conservation, merchant marine, government reorganization and last of all, foreign relations including the League of Nations, the World Court, Hague Tribunal, the recognition of Russia, the strengthening of the Monroe doctrine, the sale of arms to foreign governments, and cancellation of foreign debts.

In this step the Outlook may be encroaching upon the special field of the Literary Digest. But perhaps it will forestall the necessity on the part of the republican party of advertising for platform issues as did Chairman Will H. Hays in 1920. As for the democratic party, it will have no difficulty in forming a platform as it will have merely to enumerate the blunders and grafting of the republican regime and point with pride to the success of the democratic administration during the World war and the subsequent years in which the Graham smelting committee appointed by the republican was unable to unearth a single scandal that would stand the scrutiny of the courts. We presume that not alone democrats but many republicans would suggest a brief but significant platform in the four words, "Turn the Rascals Out."

McLEAN'S ATTACK

Now it is Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, the administration organ, that turns upon the republican party leaders in a scathing attack in which he deplores the absence of great leaders as evidenced in the present situation at Washington. There is a part of the onslaught:

"What is the matter with the republican leaders? Can it be true that they are trembling for fear that further revelations will confirm the truth of what now seems to be infamous calumnies? Or are they craven workmen who are afraid to stand up for truth and right, because of a selfish desire to keep their own individual names out of the current scandals? One or the other supposition seems to be the truth.

"Secondly, or moral cowardice - it is a hard alternative - and the people shrink from imposing judgment. But the people will not wait forever.

If they are doing what the Washington paper here intimates, they are only striving to save themselves and their friends from exposure and perhaps, like McLean, some of them are willing to collaborate to serve the same purpose.

But the Washington Post continues:

"A presidential campaign is approaching. Through the lack of stalwart and vigorous leadership the republican party goes in to the campaign as if it were a criminal on the way to execution."

That is the "most unkindliest cut of all," and it comes from a man who has been the close friend of President Coolidge and who until recently was a

REPUBLICAN SHELVED

There is scarcely any cloud without a silver lining, scarcely any evil without some compensating good.

While the scandals at Washington have assailed the country, yet they have practically killed the movement for bureaucracy which had previously been the subject of so much propaganda in and out of congress.

We hear little nowadays of the bills for Prussianizing the schools or letting loose a horde of inspectors to pry into the domestic affairs of the people. The Shepard-Towner bill and others of that stamp are consequently shelved. President Coolidge took a stand against any extension of this bureaucracy and hence these bills will receive no attention this year; but they are perennials and may bob up next year under some other name or some different prefix to "Towner," who seems to have a special claim on anything of this kind.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The state senate has under consideration the question of submitting the daylight saving bill to a popular referendum. The factory cities throughout the state are very much in favor of daylight saving; but the farmers are opposed to it for the reason that while it is in force they have to get out to work on the farms while the frost and the plants are still wet with dew and until work in what to them seems the better part of the day. There is no doubt that daylight saving is injurious to the farmers; but it is quite probable that if this question be submitted to a referendum, it will be carried in the affirmative by a large majority. Massachusetts is not an agricultural state.

CENSORING SHOWS

Mayor Curley of Boston is taking an active part in eliminating objectionable features of picture shows and other entertainments offered in the Boston theatres. While censorship is not expedient or advisable, it seems that occasionally one or two theatres will descend to a form of sensationalism that brings discredit upon themselves and others. Thus it is the indiscretion of a few that figures the many and offers ground for argument in favor of state censorship.

NEGRO REPUBLIC

Six million negroes are now members of the Universal Negro Improvement association. They want a black republic in Africa. Liberia, modeled on this idea, has proved a failure. That may have been due to its location and resources. "Africa for the Black man" is a logical slogan, though a far-off dream.

We have heard of fruit dealers painting apples red but the latest thing in this line is discovered in Philadelphia, where fish dealers painted salmon red in order to command a higher price. Such an offense borders upon deliberate poisoning and of course, calls for punishment befitting such a crime.

And now the City Institution for Savings is to erect a fine new building to which to conduct its business. Already, the bank buildings of Lowell are a credit to the city and this new one planned with doubtless in keeping with the other fine structures recently erected by local banks.

The high school band will be disappointed, of course, but the remedy is to reach a higher musical status, so that neither the band nor any of its members can be barred on such occasions on the ground of being unmusical.

Business is looking upward.

It pays to be honest, and it costs.

A Thought

It is better to die, since death comes surely, in the full tide of an honored name than to live till the end of time, obscurely, a handful of dust in a shroud of shame.

False Enough

Customer—I want to buy a $200 radio set, but as I don't want to use it for two months, I'll give you a two month note in payment. Dealer—Fair enough. Give me the note, and since you don't want to use it for two months, I'll use it here for you, from now until you want to use it. Good hardware.

Might Have Happened

An autoist was recently grabbed by a motor-kaiser out on the boulevard. "Why didn't you stop when I first signaled to you?" demanded the officer. "Seemed a pity to stop her seeing it took me two hours to get her started," he explained, and the officer said, "I'm sorry," and gave him a cigar. The last part of this story seems doubtful. —Los Angeles Times.

Metairie Family

"Strange case of heredity in that family," mused Jimmy Brown, as he inquired Brown. "Well, one of the boys has a golden tenor voice, one is in the prize ring and has a tin ear, one is a press agent with all the brass in the world, one is a silver-tongued attorney, one is a steel puddler, one a copper-smelter." "But where does the heredity come in?" broke in Brown. "Why," returned Jimmy, "their father was one of those men who made their families with an iron hand." —Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Just Guarding It

"Sir Basil Zaharoff, who has succeeded the Blunt family, as the principal of Monte Carlo," said a Chicagoan, "took me one night through the gorgeous gambling rooms at the Monte Carlo Casino. We waited a while at a roulette table. An Englishman was winning tremendously there. Finally the man cashed in. 'Goodness!' I said. 'What a haul that lucky bird has made!' 'Oh, said Sir Basil, 'That's nothing; it makes no difference to the Casino. It's just a bit of our money sleeping out for the night!'"

Good Place to Fish

He was an enthusiastic angler and he would seek a new neighborhood in which to try his skill. After tramping about for a good many miles he came to a fair-sized pond in some low-lying fields. "Ah!" he said, with the keen eye of an old sportsman, "I'll have a shot at this!" He had been fishing patiently for an hour when a rustic passed by and started in good-natured astonishment. "A boy, boy," he said, "are there any fish here?" "I don't know sir; if there be any they must be very small." "Why?" asked the fisherman. "Because," said the other, "until the heavy rain yesterday there weren't no pond!"

Appealing to Reason

"This theory of governing children by appealing to their reason isn't all it's made out to be," said a public school teacher recently. "A youngster needs a good spanking once in a while; it cheers up a child as nothing else will. Here is an instance. One of my boys had skipped his classes, deceived his mother, been found out, and caused much unhappiness all round. I took him aside and we had a round. I talked, talked, and he still looked at me intently and seemed to be deeply impressed. I thought I was making great headway, and that my sermon was penetrating Johnny's brain. I never saw a child who seemed so absorbed, even fascinated, by all line of argument. But he can never be taught as he had reached the climax in my appeal to his better self, a light of discovery broke over Johnny's face. 'Please, teacher,' he said, 'may I not have my lower jaw that doesn't work?'"

Sugar Making

There are arguments filed with rapids as of silver bolts the chime. When the liquid goes drifting, drifting to the past With its sunny slopes and meadows of my childhood's happy days And the golden days too beautiful to last.

And this one from recollection of the happy long ago, Round the corner of my memory line, When the spiced buds are swelling And the pussy willows blow, And they tap the sugar maples on the hill!

For each mile along the pathway there's a patch of blue above, And the sun between the clouds is looking down, And it seems like fairy fingers, with a tender touch of love, Have bestowed upon each hill a glory crown.

So my mind goes drifting, drifting to the hill of woeing birds, As the flowers peep beside the wood-land rill.

All of life is a fine poem running on in sweetest words, And they tap the sugar maples on the hill!

SOLDIER BONUS BILL HELD IN $150,000 THEFT

Move to Bridge $2,500,000,-
000 Gap Between Two Sets of Estimates

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The senate finance committee sought again today to bridge the $2,500,000,000 gap between two sets of government estimates as to the probable cost of the soldier bonus bill passed by the house. Joseph McCloy, government actuary, who figured the bill would cost $1,566,750,078, and H. P. Brown, veterans' bureau actuary, whose figures were used by the house in estimating the cost of the bill at $2,119,000,000, both were asked to appear before the committee.

Two main differences have developed in their calculation. Mr. McCloy figured the government would have to pay interest on all funds appropriated for payment of the bonus, and Mr. Brown argued no such expenditure would be necessary if the government should invest in outstanding government bonds the funds it would appropriate for the sinking fund with which to pay for the bonus at the end of 20 years. They also differed on the average number of days of service for veterans.

Upon conclusion of the hearings the committee will resume work on the revenue bill.

throat and struck on the jaw after she had been assaulted.

The police have a good description of the murderer, furnished by the victim's mother, who saw him twice. She first saw the youth when he drove up in a sedan motor car and offered to assist Mrs. Bauer, whose car had stuck in a mud puddle into which she had driven a few minutes before to avoid colliding with a motor truck.

The motorist took Mrs. Bauer into his car, saying he would drive her to a nearby house to get a rope with which he would pull her car from the mud.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Pera, next saw the youth a half hour later when he drove his car by her at a furious pace. Suspicious, she walked down the road a thousand feet and came upon the body of her daughter.

Every ferry communication between the Brooklyn and Manhattan shores was closely guarded throughout the night, and passengers scrutinized by police and detectives. A general police alarm was sent out and a description of the suspect forwarded to nearby cities in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

The police said that robbery was not the motive, declaring that the woman's purse, containing some money, had not been rifled.

Mrs. Bauer's husband, who is a mechanical engineer, had left home but a few hours before the murder for Detroit, where he was to have taken a job with a motor company.

Ordinances to Divide Charity Dept. Defeated

The charity department passed at the meeting, which is the ordinance changing the method of distributing foodstuffs and fuel in this division of outdoor relief by accepting the store order check system. Prominent local charities were in favor of this and it passed with only three dissenting votes.

The mayor's veto of the 1924 salary ordinance which provided for increases for six departmental heads was submitted to the council and will come up for action at the expiration of seven days.

The session got under way at 9:10 o'clock. Councilors Cosgrove and McFadden were absent.

Councilor Sadlier suggested that the charity division ordinance be left on the table.

Councilor Genest said he believed some action should be taken at once. Councilor Dickson spoke along the same lines.

The motion to keep the ordinance on the table was lost 7 to 6, with Councilors Chadwick, Chretien, Dickson, Gallagher, Genest, Lambert and Stearns voting against it.

Councilor Sadlier moved a recess, but Councilor Fitzgerald moved adjournment, which went to a vote. It was beaten by the same lineup of 7 to 6.

Councilor Chretien said he was prepared to vote at once on the ordinance and urged immediate action.

Councilor Sadlier again moved for a five-minute recess and when President Gallagher moved over to the side of Councilors Dally, Fitzgerald, Hennessey, McFadden, Moriarty and Sadlier the recess motion prevailed.

After the recess the ordinance went to a vote and on a roll-call was beaten, 8 to 5 with two absent.

Councilors who voted against it were: Chadwick, Chretien, Dickson, Gallagher, Hennessey, Lambert, Genest and Stearns. In favor were: Dally, Fitzgerald, McFadden, Moriarty and Sadlier.

Reporting for the committee on ordinances Councilor McFadden reported a majority of his committee in favor of the ordinance which would change over the method of distributing foodstuffs and fuel in the charity department outdoor relief.

The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 3. In opposition were Councilors Chadwick, Dickson and Genest.

The mayor returned without his approval of the 1924 salary ordinance. It will remain in the office of the clerk for seven days.

Frank K. Ely, of the police department, was retired on pension, following certification from the city physician.

Councilor Fitzgerald moved that the city solicitor be asked to present to the council on or before Thursday a written opinion of the status of the present suit of charities in event of the passage of the ordinance calling for a division of the department and it was so voted.

ALLEGED LAND FRAUDS SACCO-VANZETTI CASE

Calm Follows Storm—No Further Sessions to Be Held Until Monday

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The relative calm of a brief session of the senate inquiry into alleged land frauds in the Rio Grande valley of Texas, today followed the storm that broke in his sessions yesterday. The investigators were called together today merely to receive and put into record a report by Postal Inspector Williamson on alleged methods used in the sale of Cameron and Hidalgo county lands.

Senator Mores, republican, New Hampshire, chairman of the committee, plans to be out of the city for a few days, and it was agreed to hold no further sessions until Monday.

Barrels of Pistols Used as Evidence in Hearing Interchanged, Says Judge

DEDHAM, March 26.—Judge Thayer in the superior court today made a finding that the barrels of two pistols used as evidence in the hearing of motions for a new trial for Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti for murder, had been interchanged. One of the pistols was that introduced in the trial as having been found on Sacco's person when he was arrested and the other was one used by Albert M. Hamilton, a defense expert, for purposes of comparison.

The court found that the substitution apparently took place in the courtroom during one of the hearings when Hamilton took the two weapons apart and reassembled them. It was ordered that the barrels be changed again and the weapons impounded with the clerk of courts.

Arguments on the motions for a new trial were completed last November. The change in the pistol barrels was discovered in February, and the court immediately began an investigation.

Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted in July, 1921, of the murder of a paymaster and his guard in South Braintree in April, 1920. They have never been sentenced. The first motion for a new trial was denied and their counsel filed numerous supplementary motions which were argued at great length. After a hunger strike and attempt suicide last year, Sacco was committed to a hospital for the insane, but after several months, was declared sane and returned to the Dedham jail.

The defense of the two men has been financed by a defense committee formed by persons who charged that the defendants were not concerned in the murder and had been prosecuted because of their known radical opinions. There have been numerous demonstrations by radicals in Europe and South America in the interests of Sacco and Vanzetti.

RADIO CONCERTS FOR WORLD WAR PATIENTS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—World war patients in government hospitals soon will be helped to while away the hours with radio entertainment.

Director Hines of the veterans' bureau, in an order today, instructed construction agencies of the bureau to equip all government hospitals for radio reception with connections direct to the heads of patients. Civic groups and friends of the sufferers, however, apparently will have to render aid in completing the plan, since no funds are available for purchase of head phones. The money to buy the powerful receiving apparatus is not yet immediately available, but funds are being raised privately in a score of cities, and the director general has given his full approval to the plan.

The government desires King Ferdinand to inherit the ecclesiastical privileges formerly enjoyed by the king in Transylvania.

PASSENGERS TAKEN OFF STEAMER MONROE

NEW YORK, March 26.—Officials of the Dollar Steamship line said today that the 25 passengers aboard the steamship President Monroe, grounded off the Florida coast near Miami, were being transferred to tug for removal to Miami. They will be taken by rail to Key West and placed on another boat for Havana, where they will go on the Dollar liner President Harrison to continue their round-the-world voyage.

Charged With Larceny

The alleged shoplifters were not residents of this city.

Atty. Joseph P. Donahue, counsel for the defense, objected to the heavy ball in which he characterized as a "simple larceny case with the valuation of the alleged stolen goods not exceeding $100." His recommendation that ball be fixed at $500 each, however, was not accepted, as the court said previous experience in fixing a small ball did not prove advantageous.

The man and woman, claiming relationship as nephew and aunt, were taken into custody yesterday afternoon, and this morning faced the following charges: Larceny of one coat, valued at $20, one pair of pants, valued at $8, one vest valued at $4.50, from Patrick J. Mahoney; larceny of one coat, $20, pants, $7 and vest, $3 from Harry Newman; larceny of one coat, $15, pants $7, and vest $4.75, from the Boston Tailoring Co.; two coats, $25 each, two pairs of pants, $5 each, and two vests, $7 each, from persons unknown. The police think they may connect the two latter thefts with the Talbot Clothing Co.

The couple were arrested in a Central street hotel about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the result of information given by an unknown man to Lieut. Maher and Inspector John J. Walsh. When the two officers arrived at the Mantis apartment, they found the pair apparently unconcerned. They were asked several questions regarding their business in the city and replied that they came here from Boston on a visit.

A search of the room for the missing articles followed, but proved fruitless until Inspector Walsh spied a door leading to another compartment. He requested that the door be opened, and after some hesitancy on the part of the man and the woman, it was. Here the investigators came across the suits of clothes, some of them still replying on the store hangers, and all bearing store labels. A few of them had been neatly packed in a leather traveling bag. The majority of the goods bore the trade mark of the Talbot Clothing Co., while one suit was the property of Patrick Mahoney, Central street clothier. The clothes were taken to the police station together with the alleged shoplifters, and a charge of larceny was lodged against the latter.

When searched at the station, railway guides for New York and other cities were found on the suspects. It is thought they had planned to go away before being apprehended.

Inspector Walsh stated this morning that he was offered $1000 to let the pair go yesterday.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the finger. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for children's Musterole.

QUART OF WATER A DAY HELPS KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Also Take a Little Salt

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jass Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jass Salts can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

BIG TEN BASKETBALL, SEASON OF THRILLS

Basketball competition has been exceptionally keen in the Western Conference this season. Close scores, last minute victories, and even overtime periods have been the general order. Walkaway triumphs have been few and even farther between. Michigan, especially, has waded through a tough list of battles. It won six games and lost six. But in getting an even break, the Wolverines were forced to fight to the last ditch to hang up a .500 average.

The Maize and Blue, in nine of its 12 games, found the final score in doubt practically up until the last whistle. Of those nine trays, five were victories. In four of them, the verdict was by a scant one-point margin; two others were by two points, and one each by three, four and five points.

Another thing—Michigan, in the above-mentioned nine contests, scored 214 points, which was the same total that the opposition accrued. If that isn't playing them pretty close—then the dope's all wrong.

Among the other Big Ten schools spirited battles were likewise the big ones. Ohio State was in several tough encounters, as were also Chicago, Indiana, Illinois, Purdue and so on. Fact is, not one team in the entire body went through the season with less than three close games on its schedule.

One of the hardest fought tilts was that between Illinois and Northwestern. It went three overtime sessions, Illinois finally winning, 35 to 33. That took the cake! Incidentally, it was a tough one for the Purple to drop. It was the closest it came to a Big Ten victory this season.

CARPENTIER-GIBBONS BOUT JULY 4

CHICAGO, March 26.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul challenger for the world's heavyweight championship and Georges Carpentier, French light heavyweight, will meet July 4, either at Michigan City, Ind., or Benton Harbor, Mich., according to articles signed here yesterday.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, representing promoters of the bout, posted $10,000 as assurance that it will be staged. Carpentier, Carpentier's American representative posted $5,000 and Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, put up a like amount.

The conditions stipulate that Carpentier shall receive $75,000, with a privilege of 25 per cent of the receipts. He has been advanced $5,000 for training expenses. Gibbons will receive 30 per cent of the gross receipts, and $5,000 for training.

The principals must be on the ground at least a month before the bout, and must not engage in a contest during that period. Carpentier is expected to arrive from France some time in May. Because the Indiana law prohibits prize fights, he is expected to have contests, Fitzsimmons intends to take a set of articles to Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana for the executive to determine whether the law would be broken in the event Fitzsimmons has until May 10 to name the scene of the contest.

CANDLELIGHT BALL PLANS COMPLETED

LENTEN DRAMA UNDER NAVY CLUB AUSPICES

The Mission Players of Roxbury will present "Pilate's Daughter," the famous Lenten drama, in the Memorial Auditorium April 22 and 23, under the auspices of the Lowell Navy club. "Pilate's Daughter" is a story of the early days of Christianity and is often compared with the Passion Play of Oberammergau. The characters in this play have given it in its history for many years and, while they are amateurs, their acting is equal to that of professionals.

I. W. W. AT WORK HERE

Quiet Campaign in Local Textile Labor Circles Already Under Way

Agents of the Industrial Workers of the World are reported to be conducting a quiet campaign in the textile labor circles in Lowell. The information comes from headquarters of the Lowell textile workers on Central street and is based on actual knowledge.

According to the story now causing vigorous discussions at the various textile local meeting places, day and night, two well-dressed men, courteous appearing, quiet of demeanor and talking but little, came to Lowell nine days ago, established themselves in a local hotel and prepared to canvass the homes of Lowell textile workers, distributing "I. W. W." propaganda. Leading members of the textile unions and several officers of one organization with headquarters at Trades and Labor hall, saw and talked with the two "I. W. W." representatives, as they said they were, when they asked the nature of their business here. They refused to give their names or their present location, but textile workers, curious to know what the plans of the two alleged "I. W. W." agents are, have been conducting a quiet investigation in various foreign quarters of the city where textile labor abounds, and have discovered that considerable propaganda work has already been accomplished in what is termed colloquially "the Portuguese and Polish" colonies of Lowell.

Textile gossip has it that the greatest amount of work has been done thus far in South Lowell tenement and housing districts. Considerable literature has been distributed. It is said, mostly in the form of small cards, printed in small type and closely crowded, with at least two foreign languages used.

No I. W. W. literature of the propaganda form has been distributed in any textile labor headquarters. It has been known for some time past that the Industrial Workers of the World were conducting a lively campaign to spread the gospel of this organization both in Lawrence and Dover, N. H. Some of its activities in Dover, where a long strike has been in progress in the textile mills branch industrial establishment there, has been brought to the attention of the New Hampshire city and state police authorities.

COUNTRY'S FIRST HELIUM RESERVE

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The country's first helium reserve, comprising 7100 acres of gas-bearing lands in Emery county, Utah, has been created by President Coolidge on recommendation of Secretary Work.

The land will be known as Helium Reserve No. 1 and is to be made public national land, open to entry. Except for a few prospecting permits, issued about three years ago, full mineral title to the land is vested in the government. The reserve is in eastern Utah, embracing the Woodside Anticline and is believed to contain valuable deposits of helium-bearing gas. The gas is coming into use for lighter-than-air military craft.

LIONS' CLUB MEETING

Local Pastor Talks on Beliefs of Fundamentalists and Liberalists

An explanation of the beliefs of fundamentalists and liberalists was given at yesterday's meeting of Lions' club by Rev. Isaac N. Smith, pastor of the Grace Universalist church. The meeting, held in Y.M.C.A. hall at noon, was the best attended and most enthusiastic in the history of the club in this city. President Charles E. Bartlett presided at the meeting and the speaker of the day was introduced by Dr. G. Forrest Martin.

In opening his address, Rev. Mr. Smith said that there was no need of worry over the controversy raging between the fundamentalists and liberalists as in the history of religion, from the early days of Egypt through to the present time, controversies have raged steadily whenever there was a change in beliefs.

"The fundamentalists," he said, "believe in the infallibility of the bible, the immaculate conception, the virgin birth, a literal heaven, a literal hell, a physical resurrection of Jesus Christ and the second coming in the flesh of Jesus Christ to 'judge the world.' Each of these beliefs were dealt with in great detail by the speaker. "Now what do the liberalists believe?" They believe in the bible, that it contains revelations, but it is not a literal fact. Secondly, they do not believe in the downfall of man as in the fall of Adam. As to the birth of Jesus, they believe the story of His virgin birth is merely a pagan to spiritualize Jesus. They believe in the principles taught by Jesus and urge their followers to live up to his teachings. Furthermore, they do not believe in a literal heaven nor a literal hell. They believe that life after death is spiritual and that the spirit does not go to either a heaven or hell as taught by the fundamentalists. As to the second coming of Christ, the liberalist believes that Jesus is not God Himself, so Jesus will not come to earth again, in the flesh."

In conclusion, Rev. Mr. Smith said, "The doctrines of the fundamentalists were formulated by the people in very limited views of the world. The liberalists, however, believe more of the scientific side of the question and that man can, by living a higher and more spiritual life, become a son of God."

THE LOWELL ROTARY CLUB

Local Rotarians Addressed by Arthur C. Comey, Noted City Planner

Traffic problems must be solved first before Lowell's municipal government and taxpayers attempt any impressive city-wide planning campaign, declared Arthur C. Comey, noted city planner, in a 45-minute address yesterday before the members of Lowell Rotary club and invited city government guests.

The Boston speaker knows his subject and knows how to present his views on innumerable problems affecting the beautifying of cities large and small. He was invited to address the Rotarians today because of his recent gratuitous offer of help and tender of personal advice given freely to Lowell city planners during the past few weeks.

His argument today before the Rotarians was most convincing. His warning to employ caution in taking any steps toward city-wide programs for "redeeming" the different business and residential sections from certain present unprogressive and repellent conditions, appeared to sink in deeply. And above all things, Mr. Comey advised, winding up his masterly address, "Don't attempt to take this step forward in Lowell before remedying your present street traffic conditions and control of traffic. It will be work expended for little results unless you straighten out and correct present traffic evils with which you are all familiar here in this industrial city."

ALLEGED LAND FRAUDS PRES. COOLIDGE PLAYED IN HOUSE DEBATE

Sen. Hefflin Protests Manner in Which Investigation Is Being Conducted

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Protesting at the manner in which the senate investigation into alleged land frauds in the Rio Grande valley is being conducted, Senator Hefflin, democrat, Alabama, author of the investigation resolution, announced today he would carry the fight to the floor of the senate.

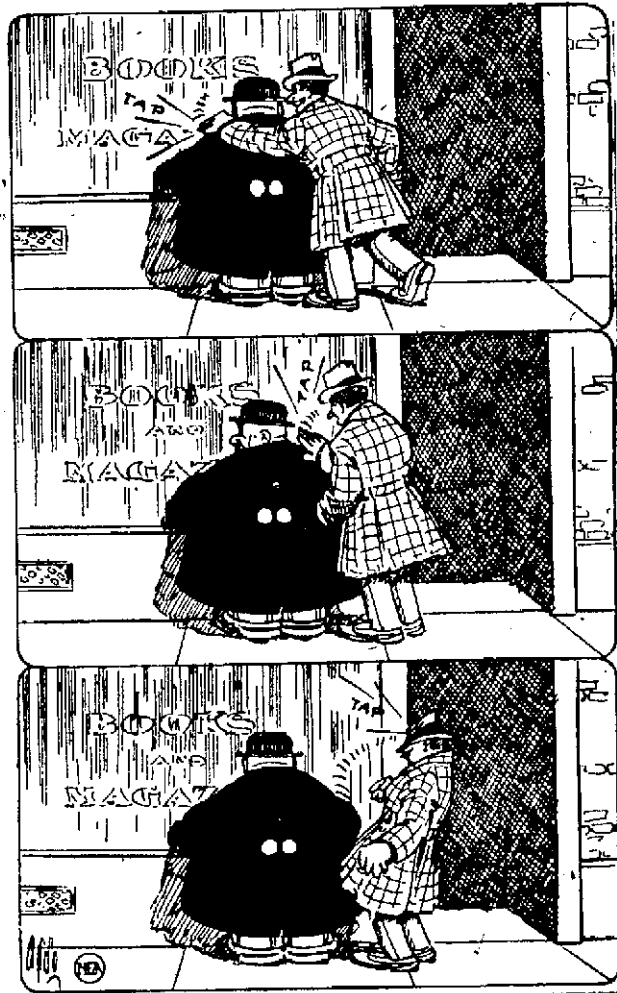

Chief Postal Inspector Simmons was on the witness stand, and George Hill, attorney for R. R. Crocker, republican national committeeman from Texas, was examining the witness. There were questions also by Chairman Moses.

Senator Hefflin protested against what he termed the "cross cut saw arrangement" the chair has with Mr. Hill.

Chairman Moses denied that any such arrangement existed.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—While the senate's investigation of Attorney General Daugherty stood in recess today a debate growing out of the disclosures broke out in the house. President Coolidge was assailed by Representative Oliver, democrat, New York, for not forcing an investigation of his own into the estate of Jess Smith, friend of the attorney general to determine where Smith's money came from. Mr. Oliver said the president has refused to help the senate committee and is "acting like a sleepy judge." "Plainly it stands," Mr. Oliver said, "shall Harry Daugherty be allowed by the president to conceal the evidence that all America demands? If he wants to conceal it, let him step out of the cabinet and conceal it if he can. If he wants to stay in the cabinet why is he afraid to reveal the facts about the will and estate of Jess Smith?"

EVERETT TRUE

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not. To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

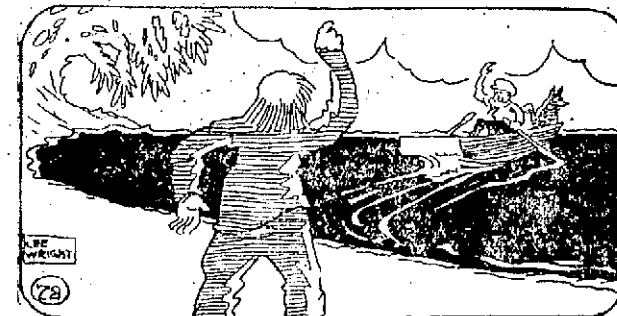

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

"So you want to join your boy friends on the Boy Scout ship," smiled the old hermit. "Well, I knew that boat was coming past here and that's why I had you bring your tent and everything with you on this hike." Then the hermit and Jack built a big fire to signal the oncoming boat.

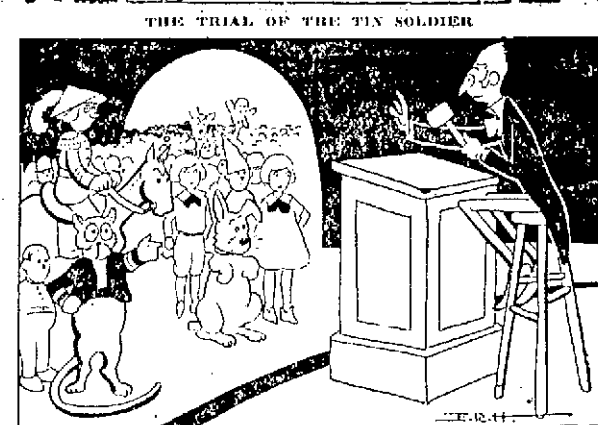

As soon as a curl of smoke was rising in the air, the Boy Scout boat apparently saw it, for the ship turned toward the hermit's island. Jack and the hermit then went down the hill and were soon right at the water's edge. There was a rowboat there and Jack and Flip climbed in.

When the adventurer and his dog were aboard the little craft the hermit gave it a push out into the stream. "Join your Boy Scouts, and return that rowboat to the man who let you take it," said the hermit. And Jack waved goodbye. His next adventure is with the Magic Tube.

MR. PUZZ WUZZ TOOK A HAMMER AND RAPPED LOUDLY.

"You may go on with the trial," declared Mister Fuzz Wuzz, the pipe-cleaner man, in a loud voice. Nancy and Nick, who were to go on with the trial, but by and by the patent-leather cat got up, pulled down his red jacket and stroked his whiskers, and said soberly: "Ladies and gentlemen, I am here to take the part of the tin soldier. He didn't mean to run over the peanut boy and break his nose." "I object!" barked the rubber dog, "and please don't get me excited or I shall whistle through the top of my head. Perhaps he didn't mean to do it, but he did it just the same and I demand that he be punished." Mister Fuzz Wuzz took a hammer and rapped loudly. "Order!" he called. "The cat and the dog and all the rest of the Doofunnies became quiet at once. "I just wanted to say," said the cat, switching his long tail, "that the tin soldier never touched the peanut boy. It was his horse." "Then," spoke up the rubber dog, "let's punish the horse." "I insist that somebody be punished for bracking the peanut boy's nose." "We shall call witnesses," said the cat with dignity. "I can show you

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Man Charged With Maintaining House of Ill-Fame is Held in $500

Woman Held in $300 on Lewd and Wanton Charge—Other Cases

A man and a woman giving the names of Paul and Rose Butler were arrested in a Worthen street house near Liberty square last night and arraigned in district court this morning. The man for maintaining a house of ill-fame, and the woman for being lewd and wanton. Both pleaded not guilty, and were continued until tomorrow. Paul in $500 bonds, and Rose in $300.

Their arrest was brought about after a two-week investigation by members of the liquor and vice squad. After watching the house for more than an hour last night, Officers Alfred J. Conroy, Frank L. Maloney and Francis J. Moore entered and placed the Butlers under arrest.

Track Walker Fined
The first prosecution in a recently planned crusade of the Boston and Maine railroad to put an end to the practice of walking on the company's railroad tracks, took place this morning when a man was ordered to pay a fine of $5.

Defendant was arrested on the tracks near School street Monday afternoon when he refused to get off the tracks when ordered to do so by Edward G. Simons, sergeant of police for the B. and M. in this district. In commenting on the case, Judge Enright said he has received several notices from the B. and M. management to the effect that lives were being needlessly exposed by persons crossing the tracks. The officials, he said, asked the co-operation of the court, in discouraging the practice and he promised that he would help in every way possible. "I know there is a great temptation to take a short cut through the railroad yards," he said, "but people must remember that trains are constantly being shifted there, and foot traffic must be stopped. I take this attitude for the benefit of the public as well as for the benefit of the railroad."

Suspect Released
A Waverlet street man taken in early last night by Officer Walter L. Kivlan and booked as a suspicious person, was allowed to go. The court felt, however, that he was the person responsible for the complaints coming from teachers in the Moody school that a man had been acting disorderly in that vicinity the past few days. He was given to understand that his presence in that neighborhood again would mean a house of correction sentence.

Two Suspended Sentences
Peter F. Curley, who was continued yesterday to await the testimony of his wife, was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction on top of a previous suspended sentence of five months for non-support. The present charge was drunkenness and the suspension was ordered on condition that he leave his wife and contribute $15 weekly to her support.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

LIQUOR CASES BEFORE WILL INSTALL OFFICERS

U. S. COMMISSIONER

Ephraim Cole and Oliver Thiboutot of Nashua were arraigned this morning before U. S. Commissioner Walsh at the Gorham street court house, charged with illegal possession and transportation of liquor. Through their counsel, James E. O'Donnell, they entered pleas of not guilty.

Officers Sullivan and Hall of the federal prohibition staff and Detectives Winn, Moore and Conroy of the Lowell police liquor squad testified for the government.

At the conclusion of the hearing Thiboutot was found not guilty and discharged. Commissioner Walsh found probable cause against Cole and he was bound over until next Wednesday to obtain acceptable bail for his appearance before the federal court in Boston.

Through an interpreter the defendants testified that they bought two and half gallons of alcohol at 37 Exeter street on March 19 for $15, and it was this liquor they had in their possession. The officers, bound to raid the house mentioned, encountered the two defendants as they were leaving and arrested them. One of the defendants having made the statement under oath on the witness stand, that the alcohol he had in his possession was sold him by Donat Bergeron, Federal Agent Sullivan made it known he would ask for a warrant against Bergeron. Bergeron was once convicted in district court on a liquor law violation. He was arraigned before Commissioner Walsh on a similar charge more than a month ago and through his counsel, George F. Toye, succeeded in having the complaint against him dismissed.

The two cases on the continued calendar from a week ago were both disposed of in favor of the government. Lewis Gahlin, who was the side of "the antique bootlegger" when arrested for his suspicious actions on a trolley car a few weeks ago, by Officer Furey, was held in $200 surety for the federal court.

The commissioner has also made a finding of probable guilty in the continued case against Everett H. Gaffney of the Park hotel, and he furnished surety in the sum of $500 for his appearance when wanted in the federal court.

Edward McDonald and Patrick H. Shugrue both were represented by E. J. Tierney as counsel and waived preliminary examination. Bail in a similar amount was furnished.

SPECIAL LECTURE AND RELIGIOUS SERVICE

Members of the Jewish race living in Lowell and vicinity have been invited to attend a special lecture and religious service to be held next Sunday evening at 7:30, in Montefiore synagogue on Howard street, this city. The announcement calls for the appearance of noted Hebrew religious and educational instructors from New York city—Cantor Julius Glassman and Rabbi Maurice Wolf.

The purpose of the Sunday night rally of Jewish-speaking residents of Lowell, is educational for the most part, the desire being to increase education in Jewish doctrines and ancient and modern religious tenets. Rabbi Elias Wolfson, leader of the local Jewish synagogue in Lowell, will preside at the exercises. An imposing program has been arranged.

Cantor Glassman, who is attached to Temple Beth El in New York city, will lead a religious service known in Hebrew as "Mizmor"; Jewish folk songs will be rendered and the congregation will take part. Rabbi Wolf is scheduled to give a lecture afterward, the title being "Judaism and Americanism."

Invitations have been issued to all Jewish people, men, women and children, to this vicinity, to attend the Sunday evening meeting. There will be no admission charge.

High School Relay Men in Complimentary Dinner to Be Given Athletes By Citizens Tonight

Well Known Men Coming as Speakers—Attendance of 200 Expected

The complimentary dinner to be given members of this year's high school athletic teams by local business men and three well known organizations will be held in the high school lunch room at 6:30 o'clock this evening. From every angle the dinner will be unique in the history of the school and also marks the first concerted public manifestation of interest in the athletic affairs of the institution. It should result in a splendid awakening of spirit and interest and hopefully it will do so.

Faculty Manager James F. Conway, who is actively in charge of the dinner arrangements, said today that he anticipated a gathering of approximately 200. Benjamin S. Ponzner will be the toastmaster and will introduce as speakers Mayor John J. Donovan, Hon. Perry D. Thompson, Hugh C. McGrath of Boston, William J. Bingham, former track coach at Harvard and Mr. Conway. A few other men will be called on for brief remarks. There will be plenty of music under the direction of Edward P. Slattery and special numbers by Edward E. Peters, piano duets by David and Ernest Latham and piano solos by Joseph McAviney.

The main object of the dinner is to show the boys who have competed on the school's baseball, football, track and basketball teams that the city appreciates their efforts and for the purpose of solidifying public spirit which may be translated in terms of substantial moral and financial support in the plans for the future.

Of course there will be a great deal of interest shown in the trip to be taken by members of the track team to the Pennsylvania relay carnival at Philadelphia in April, but all school sports will be prominently mentioned and an effort made to extend interest in these things among the people of the city to the fullest possible extent.

GENERAL MANAGER WAS PINCH HITTER

A humorous little incident featured the Doe club's first dance last evening when those who forgot to bring the keys, however, just as the festivities were threatened by postponement until they could be sent for. Mr. Drew, the popular general manager, appeared to relieve the situation.

The dance was held in the main office of the Doe Casket company with about thirty guests present. The highest degree of praise must be given to the various committees for their excellent planning. The club president, Mac Murphy, had a helping hand for each. Decorations, headed by Mabel Clauson, provoked much favorable comment and an electric "G" comprised a harmonious setting for the fun which followed.

The plan of organization of the new committee, meeting dates, and other details will be attended to at this meeting.

ENLARGED CLEANER CITY COMMITTEE

The first meeting of the enlarged cleaner city committee will be held Friday afternoon of this week at 4:30 o'clock at Liberty hall, according to the notice sent out by the president, P. P. Sullivan. The meeting is important, as it marks the first gathering of the committee of one hundred, projected early in the new year.

The plan of organization of the new committee, meeting dates, and other details will be attended to at this meeting.

Police Say Lowell Man a Suicide

POINGARE MINISTRY FALLS

Five Men Made $33,000,000 in Oil Deal

BODY OF SUPPOSED LOWELL MAN, DEAD FOR MONTHS, IS FOUND

Had Been Covered By Snow in Manchester, N. H.—
Throat and Wrists Slashed, Razor Clutched—Suicide
Theory Advanced—Letter and Money in Pockets

(Special to The Sun)
MANCHESTER, N. H., March 26.—The body of an unidentified man, his throat and wrists slashed, was found in a wooded spot here early last night. He had been dead for months, the coroner says. A letter in his pocket, addressed to Katie McKel, 24 Mason's court, Lowell, Mass., is the only clue to his identity. The body was half covered by a pile of snow. The razor believed to have been used was clutched in the dead man's hands. Police are inclined to a suicide theory and have asked the Lowell authorities to co-operate in establishing identity.

Body in Morgue
Medical Referee Powers said that the man had been dead two or three months and ordered the body removed to Concord morgue. His finding is "probable suicide." A small sum of money was found in the pockets and the police say the man is believed to have worked as a lumberjack at Hooksett earlier in the winter. The body was found in an open lot.

ORDINANCE TO DIVIDE CHARITY DEPARTMENT DEFEATED

City Council Defeats Measure in Special Meeting—
Councilor Sadlier Gives Notice of Reconsideration
—Three City Officials Drawn as Jurors

The ordinance which proposed to divide the charity department into two separate departments with a superintendent to be named for the Charitable fund, was defeated at a special city council meeting last night by a vote of 8 to 4. The republican delegation of six, augmented by Councilors Gallagher and Hennessey, outvoted the five proponents present at the meeting and although Councilor Frederick A. Sadlier gave notice of reconsideration at the next meeting, it is now believed that the eight votes in opposition will "stay put" and finally defeat it when reconsideration comes. With Councilors Daniel Cosgrove and Thomas McFadden absent from the meeting, Councilor Sadlier, steersman for the measure, attempted to have it left on the table. Opponents forced the issue, however, and called for immediate action. A motion to adjourn was defeated and after a short recess the ordinance itself went into the discard by the vote above quoted. One important measure concerning

at Hearing Today—Says Smith and Daugherty
"Sore" Because They Were Not in On Deal

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A hint of an oil deal in which "five men made $33,000,000" in the fall of 1922, was brought before the Daugherty investigating committee today by Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of the attorney general's friend and political lieutenant, Jess W. Smith. The witness said Smith had told her of such a transaction and that she understood it had to do with stock in the Sinclair interests which on April 7, 1922, leased Ten Pot Dome. She added that Smith said he and the attorney general were "sore" because the men who made the money were friends of theirs, but had not let them in on the deal. She could not name them. The fitting reference to the $33,000,000 affair was made in the midst of a session which otherwise had lacked much of the momentum of Miss Stinson's Washington.

She had $100 with her at the time of her departure, and wore her school clothes, leaving behind her best apparel.

With Pres. Coolidge

Officials Say Conferences
Were Separate—No State-

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Attorney General Daugherty and Senator Lodge conferred with President Coolidge today, but White House officials said their conferences were separate and that the republican leader's conference did not concern Mr. Daugherty's situation. Mr. Daugherty said his conference was "about routine matters."

Some weeks ago, Senator Lodge was one of those sent to the White House by the senate republicans to inform the president of the growing demand at the capital that Mr. Daugherty quit office, but there was nothing to indicate whether the same subject was discussed with Mr. Coolidge today.

Crash in Fog Near Dungeness
—15 of Crew Rescued—
23 Others Missing

LONDON, March 26.—A message to Lloyd's from the North Foreland wireless station reports that a Japanese steamship sank after colliding with the German steamship Helmdale near Dungeness in a dense fog last night. The Helmdale took off 15 members of the Japanese crew, said the message, and arrived at Dover this morning with her bows damaged.

There were no signs of the remainder of the Japanese crew, who are believed to have been asleep at the time of the collision and to have gone down with the ship.

A later message said the sunken steamer was the Tokufuku Maru, bound from Bremen for Japan, and that 23 of her crew were missing.

Lloyd's register lists the Tokufuku Maru as a steel vessel of 5859 gross tonnage. She was last reported to have arrived at Rotterdam on March 3.

APPROPRIATION BILL REPORTED BY HOUSE CARRIES $30,344,000

Sharp Reduction in Expenditures by Veterans' Bureau, the Shipping Board and Several Other Government Agencies Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A sharp reduction in expenditures by the veterans' bureau, the shipping board and several other government agencies, as proposed in the independent agencies appropriation bill reported today to the house, will mean a saving of $30,344,000, or $103,344,488 less than last year's appropriations and $241,741 less than budget estimates.

Of the total $349,065,000 would go to the veterans' bureau, a reduction of $86,355,000 under a year ago. The shipping board and emergency fleet corporation would be allotted $30,344,000 or $26,607,600 less than the last bill carried.

The bill provides $75,000 for President Coolidge's salary, $25,000 for his traveling expenses, $93,520 for salaries and $37,000 for contingent expenses in the executive office and $55,640 for the pay for the White House police.

Other items include $225,000 for the alien property custodian office; $947,115 for the civil service commission, $2,650,000 for the employees' compensation commission, $3,724,012 for the revenue accounting office, $803,100 for the housing corporation, $1,262,284 for the interstate commerce commission, $44,450,000 for the national advisory committee for aeronautics, $322,200 for the railroad labor board, $799,051 for the Smithsonian institution, and $681,930 for the tariff commission.

Shipping board salaries were scaled down. The bill provides that only one official can be paid more than $25,000 a year, two more than $20,000 and four more than $18,000.

The bill carries $23,000,000 for compensation to war veterans and $88,000,000 for insurance.

The bill provides $89,000,000 for vocational rehabilitation, $31,343,000 less than last year's appropriation. The decrease, the committee's report explained, is due to the closing of schools and getting men out of training and into employment.

In its report, the committee said that only 600,000 insurance policies of the 4,500,000 taken out by service men and women during the war, are still in force. The committee estimated that due to the decrease in receipts from premiums, more than $25,000,000 a year will have to be appropriated for payment of term insurance for the next 17 years.

ANDERSON AT WORK WITH MOP AND PAIL IN PRISON

OSSENING, N. Y., March 26.—Number 75715, who to the outside world is known as William H. Anderson, resigned superintendent of the New York Anti-Saloon league, was an early riser in Sing Sing today and after the usual preliminaries, including a meagre breakfast, was put to work with a mop and pail.

Anderson is a member of the reconstruction company, which includes newcomers to Sing Sing who for ten days clean up both inside and outside the prison. Warden Laves said the prisoner later probably would be assigned to clerical work. During the days he is a member of the reconstruction company, Anderson will not be allowed to receive visitors.

Anderson has been assigned to a cell in one of the prison's older buildings. Instead of one of the new dormitories. He is the tallest prisoner in Sing Sing.

PARCHMENTS WRITTEN IN 189 B. C. FOUND

PARIS, March 26.—French archaeologists working in Syria have discovered at Salbyeh, in the Euphrates region, a Greek city founded just after the death of Alexander the Great, 234 years ago, and abandoned in 213 A.D., when the desert sands covered it.

Among the objects dug from the ruins are a number of parchments, one of which, written in 189 B.C., is said to be the oldest Greek manuscript extant. The scientists also uncovered a series of mural paintings of exceptional importance as a source of study of Byzantine art.

Body of Lowell Man Found at Second and West Manchester streets in South Manchester. Snow piled there throughout the winter. In large drifts, has been but lately disappearing. Passing there early last evening Percy Signorini noticed a small handbag, the top and handle of which were protruding from a snow bank. Further investigation disclosed his gruesome find and he immediately notified the police.

The deceased was a man five feet, eight inches in height and had brown hair, blue eyes, two tufted sideburns on the left arm, a brown overcoat, a light blue coat, army trousers, wool socks and heavy high boots generally worn by workmen. A mixed gray-colored cap completed his apparel.

No Local Developments
The local police up to 1 o'clock had made no headway in learning anything of the local angle of the case. The man's name is not listed in the city directory and the numbers in Massena court do not run as high as the number given.

Asks Poincare to Stay

PARIS, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Millerand asked M. Poincare to continue as premier when he received him at Elysee palace this afternoon.

On Eve of Experts' Report

PARIS, March 26.—The fall of the government comes just on the eve of the expected presentation by the Dawes expert committee of its report for the reparations committee on Germany's financial and economic status and the committee's anticipated presentation of a program which it has been hoped would lead to an adjustment of the reparations question, solve the Ruhr difficulty, start Germany on a path of economic soundness and eventually bring about renewed economic stability in Europe.

Just what effect the withdrawal of the Poincare ministry at this crucial time may have upon the result of the expert committee's investigations and conclusions, remains to be developed.

Poincare Outed to Palace

PARIS, March 26.—Raymond Poincare, whose ministry resigned today after a defeat in the chamber, was summoned to the palace late this afternoon by President Millerand. LOWELL JEWELERS AT POISON VICTIM STILL IN STATE CONVENTION

Lowell jewelry store interests were well represented yesterday at the opening of the two-day convention of the Massachusetts Retail Jewelers' association, including the retail jewelers of Rhode Island, held at the Coppley Plaza hotel. It was the tenth annual business meeting. Officers are to be elected today.

Among local jewelers at the first day's rally were Adelbert H. Abbott, president of the Lowell Retail Jewelers' association, and Secretary Frank Ricard. Today, Lowell was again represented by members of the local association.

Three representative Lowell jewelers were appointed to participate in a Safety Week campaign, with Lowell chamber of commerce in charge of arrangements. It was resolved to advertise freely in order to promote business.

The Ricard address today on the loaning of watches to customers leaving their own timepieces to be repaired or readjusted, covered three typewritten pages and was interesting throughout. He said the custom of jewelers loaning timepieces in this way was obsolete.

Retail advertising campaigns in local newspapers were enthusiastically endorsed by the convention members yesterday. Better and more aggressive salesmanship in retail stores, better window displays and other plans for the distribution of goods, were also approved.

COAL TEAMSTERS WILL MEET THIS EVENING

Coal Teamsters' union members are to meet this evening to take action upon the refusal of the Lowell Coal Dealers' association to increase wages of employees. Committees from the two organizations met last Monday night to discuss 1924 wage schedules. The former agreement expired last January. The teamsters have presented demands for more wages and have had them turned down. As a result of the present demands of the teamsters, the union members will rally tonight at the call of President E. Frank J. Horn in Trades and Labor hall, Central street, to discuss what shall be done.

Herbert W. Horne heads the coal dealers' committee and President Clark of the union committee. Members of the latter committee include Patrick Bradley, Thomas Cassidy, Martin Phannigan, George McNe and Thomas Vancanter.

Union members claim that Lowell teamsters and chauffeurs receive smaller wages for a harder work than the same classes of men employed in Boston, Malden, Lynn, Salem and Newton. Employees in the latter cities receive Saturday afternoons off, while Lowell men have no holidays.

"The employers have announced that they have taken a hard stand on the wage question, claiming they cannot afford to increase wages at this time because of 'poor business.'"

CHANGE TIME OF HARVARD-YALE RACE

CAMBRIDGE, March 26.—The Harvard-Yale varsity race on the Thames at New London, Conn., on June 20, may be rowed as early as two o'clock in the afternoon. Fred W. Gordon, president of the regatta of athletics, pointed out today that high tide on that day would come at noon and that because of shoals along the course it was necessary to row the race within two hours of flood tide.

As a result of a meeting of Harvard and Yale officials at New Haven, yesterday it is considered likely that an agreement will be reached to row the race sometime before noon and a o'clock.

Committee Fails to Act On Impeachment Resolutions

Continued

In its investigation tomorrow to question several witnesses about reported "oil deals" during the 1920 republican national convention.

Meanwhile the house judiciary committee had before it the resolution adopted yesterday by the senate looking to impeachment of Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, as collector of customs at El Paso, Tex., and Dist. Atty. Gordon was preparing to press for grand jury action this week on the senate's charge of contempt against Harry F. Sinclair because of his refusal to testify before the oil committee.

The move for impeachment of Chase grew out of his refusal to answer questions put to him by the oil committee on the ground that his answers might incriminate him and it was made known after the senate had adopted its resolution asking the house to take such steps "as may be appropriate."

He had submitted his resignation to Assistant Secretary Ross of the treasury department, immediately after his appearance on the stand. The resignation has not yet been accepted.

The grand jury is considering the Sinclair contempt case and Dist. Atty. Gordon after conferring with the government's special oil counsel yesterday made plans to press for quick action.

At Jennings, one time train robber in Oklahoma, who became an angel in the late republican national committee-man from that state, is expected to provide most of the testimony before the committee tomorrow about the convention "oil deal" gossip. Several other witnesses have been summoned in this connection, however, and Lewis W. Baldwin, president of the Empire Trust Co. of New York is to be asked about the security provided for a loan negotiated with his institution when the republican national committee incurred a deficit during the 1920 campaign.

Made $33,000,000 in Oil Deal

Continued

Smith's previous appearances as a star witness in the inquiry, Senator Wheeler, of Montana, the committee prosecutor, was kept at home with a cold and the examination for the most part proceeded quite peacefully.

The witness said at the outset that he wished to disclaim any previous intimations in the testimony that he had thought Smith had killed himself. He said he had met his own death, but believed Mr. Daugherty was "morally responsible" for his determination to kill himself.

When he came to Washington, Miss Stinson said Smith was worth some $125,000, but when he was found dead in the attorney-general's apartment last Memorial day, an inventory of his property showed a total valuation of $214,000. Asked whether she thought there were other heirs omitted from the inventory she said she would rather not reply.

She replied in the negative when asked by Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, whether she knew that a note was found in Smith's pocket after his death and never was turned over to the authorities.

A good part of the session was taken up with the reading of letters Smith had written her on the attorney-general's department of justice stationery. They referred largely to personal matters.

Opening of Today's session
WASHINGTON, March 26.—Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Harry M. Daugherty's friend, Jess W. Smith, continued before the Daugherty investigating committee, her story of Smith's relations to the attorney general and the department of justice.

The session lacked some thrills of those at which Miss Stinson previously has testified, because Senator Wheeler of Montana, the committee prosecutor, was sick in bed.

Blame sought for suicide
Before the questioning of the witness began, Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, read into the record a transcript of testimony put before the oil committee, having to do with stock purchases of Daugherty and Smith. The stock accounts were under the name of "W. W. Spaid" of the stock brokerage firm of Hibbs & Co., and one of them was identified as a joint account of the attorney-general and Smith, which, accounts, many said, had resulted in a loss of $24,000 on oil stocks.

Miss Stinson began by declaring that despite suggestions to the contrary, she believed Smith committed suicide. She reaffirmed her belief that Attorney General Daugherty was "morally responsible."

Smith was found dead a year ago in the apartment occupied by him and Daugherty.

Smith had "not his house in order" very carefully just before his death, she witness said, and she based her judgment that he took his own life on that circumstance.

She repeated that Smith was laboring, under a great strain resulting from his relations with the transactions she previously has described to the committee.

Says Smith Killed Himself
"It was your belief that Jess Smith committed suicide?" Chairman Brookhart reiterated.

"Yes sir," Miss Stinson said. "So far as I am concerned, I am sure that he did take his own life. However, I also consider Harry Daugherty morally responsible for his death."

Chairman Brookhart asked her to give details as to the property of Smith before he came to Washington, remarking that by her testimony he had left an estate of between $125,000 and $140,000. The witness produced an inventory, which she explained in detail.

When he went to Washington, she said, he had "some coal stock worth $10,000," and some 300 shares in another company, "appraised at $70,000 but worth more than that."

He possessed a share of a dry goods store which he sold for $40,000, she continued. "A $12,000 house and two cottages worth $3500. He might have had a few stocks on margin and other minor things, inconsequential."

"Now, what did he have when he came to Washington?" asked Brookhart.

"There was $25,000 in Liberty bonds at the Riggs bank," said the witness. "And 210 shares of Pure Oil, worth $5554, then there was 200 Central Leather, worth $1000."

"According to figures on coming to Washington," Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire put it, "Mr. Smith had about $112,000."

Miss Stinson agreed.

Had $221,000 at Death
Senator Moses then pointed out that the inventory of the estate showed he had at death $214,000, and Senator Jones, republican, Washington, asked if the witness had reason to believe that Smith left property not covered in the inventory. After a brief hesitation, she said he preferred "not to answer that."

"Are the $5,000 bills you testified Mr. Smith had listed in the inventory?" asked Senator Ashurst.

"No."

"You do not know what became of them?"

"I do not."

"Do you know the name of the gentleman who was present when Jess Smith died?"

"Yes, Mr. Martin. Mal Daugherty tells me, was present."

Martin is private secretary to the attorney general.

Senator Moses asked if there was "a money belt" found in Smith's personal effects. Miss Stinson said she did not know.

"Then, Daugherty has said I am an angry woman because I wasn't his sole heir," she remarked.

"If you have reason to believe he had other property, like you to state it," said Senator Jones.

"I'd rather not answer."

The witness said she told Mal Daugherty that she thought they would find "something for me" in Smith's deposit box. She insisted, however, that Smith had "never led me to believe that I would be his sole heir."

"Do you know that there was a note found in Mr. Smith's pocket when he died?" Senator Jones asked.

"I don't know there was a note found in his handwriting, made on Monday and he passed away Wednesday," it appeared this will was different from the one giving $25,000 to Atty. Gen. Daugherty.

"It was the duty of those who had charge to file this for the court's inspection," said Senator Ashurst.

Smith's Letters Read

Miss Stinson said this will, though considered invalid, had been shown to the courts.

Chairman Brookhart put in a letter written by Smith to Miss Stinson dated in December, 1922, telling her to "sell White Motor and hold Pure Oil."

It spoke of the Daugherty impeachment proceedings before the house and said "everybody was full of fight."

Another "less" letter, dated Jan. 25, 1923, described Smith's sale of his name the five men, and she said she "was not sure" of them.

"Was New McLean one of them?" "I'm not sure."

WE MAY COMMUNICATE BY TINY WAVES FROM OUR BODIES

GEORGES LAKHOVSKY, RADIO SCIENTIST, AND SKETCHES OF THE BAT AND MOSQUITO WHICH, LAKHOVSKY SAYS, MAY BE GUIDED BY RADIATIONS FROM THEIR PREY.

Does the bat 'see' by radio?

By N.E.A. Service
PARIS, March 25—Man is a wireless transmitter. The time may come when man also will be a wireless receiver, tuned in to receive the tiny radio waves that are emitted by other bodies and to communicate with others by means of these waves! This is the prediction of Georges Lakhovsky, eminent Parisian scientist, who has solved some of the most delicate problems of radio. He has enunciated the theory that all living creatures emit tiny radio waves and that many already communicate with one another, or are attracted to others, by means of these emanations.

Radio Facts

"Physiology teaches us that our sense of direction, of balance, of equilibrium is due to certain tiny canals in the ear," says Lakhovsky. "It suggests to me that these may play the part of wireless receivers. Many insects have antennae that are more than feelers. They are wireless receivers and senders in all probability." Many birds and animals are guided by special radiations, not by instinct or a peculiar sense, he says. Owls and other night birds get their food by help of the waves emitted by their prey, he points out.

Some naturalists say bats are guided by their fine hearing and sense of smell. But Lakhovsky says he watched them in Paris while the noise and odors of insects filled the air. Yet the bats caught insects in the air, guided, he believes, by radiations of their prey.

Wave Talk
"Professor Blondlot," he goes on, "has maintained that man emits radiations that he calls 'N-rays.' This suggests to me that man, too, some day may be able to communicate by means of his own waves, just as I think insects and other living things do now." "When that day comes doctors may learn to distinguish between the waves emitted by a well man and those of a sick person. And by using contrarays, the physician may be able to cure the patient without medicine."

"When we learn more about the waves man emits and how these waves are affected in intensity and length by various microbes, we will pass out of the domain of uncertain diagnosis. We will be positive. We will have a table of wave lengths which will be exact. And we will know what to do in each case."

"The possibilities are limitless. But we have just reached the edge of the subject."

ALBERT EDMUND BROWN

General Committee Will Arrange Testimonial to Distinguished Musician

A general committee was formed at a meeting of delegates of various civic and fraternal organizations and a large group of individuals, in Liberty hall last night, to take charge of a civic testimonial to Albert Edmund Brown, well known teacher of music and a willing worker in the local musical field, before he leaves this city early in May to take up his duties as dean of the department of public school music at the Itasca, N. Y., Conservatory of Music.

The meeting was called by a committee of the Masonic choir headed by Ora G. Hardy. Mr. Hardy opened last night's meeting and briefly outlined the reason for the call and the program roughly formulated by the choir as a basis upon which the general committee might build if it was decided to go ahead with the testimonial. He called for an expression of opinion upon the testimonial and was assured by delegates present of their backing in the matter.

With this assurance, a general committee consisting of all present was formed and Mayor John J. Donovan was named honorary chairman. Robert W. Thomson was elected permanent chairman and James E. Donnelly vice-chairman.

Mr. Thomson named the following committees: Ticket, John J. Campbell, Ora G. Hardy and Bernard B. Brown; publicity, Sidney R. Fleet, Arthur W. Woodley and Benjamin Pouszner; checking, Colin H. Mackenzie; ushers, John J. Campbell; posters, C. D. Harrington.

After a considerable discussion, it was voted to hold the testimonial in the Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 7. It was further voted to have only a general admission and to charge $1.10 a ticket.

The program itself was left to Mr. Brown. On behalf of the Masonic choir, Ora G. Hardy volunteered the services of this organization and it is expected that the Studio Choral Association will do likewise. It was with these two organizations that Mr. Brown was directly connected during the past few years.

Other matters concerning the testimonial were discussed and will be announced later. The local lodge of Elks, through John J. Campbell, pledged itself to take 500 tickets to the testimonial.

The testimonial is to be a spontaneous affair and will afford the people of Lowell an opportunity to show their appreciation of Mr. Brown's services in the musical field during the past many years. The success of the affair depends upon the general public and it is believed the event will be one of the most successful of its kind ever held in this city.

The next meeting of the general committee will be held Thursday evening of next week in Elks hall, at 8 o'clock.

The following delegations and individuals were present at last night's meeting and make up the general committee: Masonic choir, Ora G. Hardy, P. A. Alden, Frank Orrell, Arthur R. Smith, G. F. Wagner, Peter R. Widen; Studio Choral Association, Frank Mills, Simeon Hayworth and Peter R. Widen; and Arthur C. Spalding; chamber of commerce, Arthur C. Spalding and C. P. Frederiek; Rotary club, Robert W. Thomson and Arthur C. Spalding; Boys' club, W. H. G. Wright; Lowell lodge #7, P. M. O. Elks, John J. Campbell, Bernard B. Brown and Arthur T. CANDIDATES INITIATED AT ELKS' MEETING

A large class of candidates was initiated last night at the regular meeting of Lowell Lodge, No. 47, B.P. O. Elks, which was followed by a breakfast supper that struck just the right spot with the several hundred members of the lodge present for the occasion. Last night initiation was the last to be performed by the present officers of the lodge. Exalted Ruler W. Edward Turnbull will have retired from office before the next class is presented for initiation.

Past Exalted Ruler Michael H. Markham, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the grand lodge convention participation this year, reported fine progress. The members of Lowell lodge will parade in Boston at the opening of the convention and snappy suits of silk mohair have been adopted as the uniform of the day. White shirt, purple hat-band, tie and socks complete the picture. A model was displayed at the rooming last night and met with general approval.

Preparations are under way for the installation of officers of the lodge, recently elected, which takes place Tuesday night, April 3, at Associate hall, the hall at the Middle street clubrooms not being large enough to handle the crowd that is certain to turn out.

Distinguished visitors from all parts of New England are expected to attend the ceremonies. Past Exalted Ruler Desmond of Lawrence lodge is expected to be designated as the installing officer. Dignitaries of the order from far and near have been asked to attend and witness the elevation in office of Esteemed Leading Knight James B. Donnelly to the position of exalted ruler.

A luncheon will be served following the ceremony. The members will leave Associate hall and return to the Elks club on Middle street where the spread will be awaiting them at the close of the session.

ELECT DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION

Delegates to the annual state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to be held in Haverhill, were last night elected by Walker-Brown Post No. 662, of Lowell, as follows: Commanders Leo Krug, John Shea, Carroll L. Pinkree, Richard T. Casey and Joseph McShane. Alternates, Commanders Harry Whitely, William Caddell, Frank Hart and Thomas Vickers.

"Poppy Day" committee appointments chosen by No. 662 are announced as follows: Commanders, chairmen; P. T. Casey, Frank E. Hart, John Shea, Philip Desmarais and Thomas Vickers.

Six new members were admitted to post ranks at the meeting last night. More applications are to be acted upon at next meeting. The drive for membership is increasing. Post Commander Caddell hopes to double the present membership before the national convention.

Post No. 662 will in the future hold regular meeting nights on the second and fourth Friday nights of each month in the permanent quarters now located on the top floor of the new city library building. Post headquarters are located in the anteroom off the main hall in this building. Commanders are highly pleased with their new meeting place and are to "dedicate" it at the next regular meeting, Friday evening, April 5.

COOLIDGE HOLDS SLIGHT LEAD IN SO. DAKOTA

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 26. (By the Associated Press.)—President Calvin Coolidge was holding a lead of less than 2000 votes over Senator Hiram Johnson for the republican presidential preference when tabulation of unofficial returns from yesterday's primary in South Dakota was resumed today. Gained largely through the city vote in the southeastern part of the state, the lead was reduced by reports early today from heavy Johnson counties, and rural precincts in the central and northwestern parts were expected by Johnson workers to cut deeper into the Coolidge lead.

Coolidge workers, answering the claim of Johnson managers that the Californian had won by 10,000 majority, insisted the western part of the state and more nearly complete returns from the southeastern section would enable the president to hold his lead.

On the democratic ticket, only scattered and incomplete returns were available, but the state headquarters of the party at Huron, backing the majority column filings, declared William G. McAdoo had obtained the presidential endorsement. He was opposed by a faction seeking to send an uninitiated delegation to the national convention.

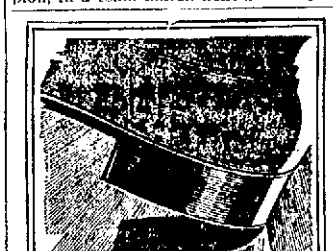

Returns from 538 precincts of approximately 1500 in the state gave Coolidge 23,159 and Senator Johnson 21,261, while 555 precincts gave McAdoo 23,220 and Sterling 10,735.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Simon Silverblatt to Miss Lucille Esther Lemkin of this city, took place last evening at 7 o'clock, in the Beacon House, Brooklyn, and it was a charming wedding ceremony being performed by Rabbi Rubenowitz of Boston. Miss Emily Harris and Mr. Julius Lemkin attended the couple as maid of honor and best man respectively. The bride wore a handsome gown of broadcloth. She wore a veil held in place by a band of pearls and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Harris, her attendant, wore peach-colored georgette crepe trimmed with silver lace and carried two roses. A wedding dinner was served and there were many guests present to shower congratulations on the couple. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Silverblatt left on an extended wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside in Lowell. The young couple are very well known here, the bridegroom being a brother of Attorney Bennett Silverblatt, while the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lemkin, the former the well known merchant.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE OF ALL SOULS CHURCH

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Alliance of All Souls church in the parish house yesterday afternoon, Miss Cooper, the speaker of the afternoon gave a complete resume of the Harper prize novel for 1923, "The Able McLaughlins."

Previous to the interesting talk by Miss Cooper, routine matters were transacted with Mrs. Robert Staples, president, in the chair.

Miss Cooper outlined her characters and their action in the story so vividly that her audience in most instances clearly pictured the theme as if written before them. The book, dealing with the upbringing of eight children, together with the hardships experienced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McLaughlin, who live on the prairie prior to the Civil war, is most interesting and Miss Cooper's interpretation of it was greatly appreciated by the members of the organization.

Following the talk, tea and refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

The last meeting of the year will be held the last Tuesday in April and will be the annual business meeting.

LENT IN THE HOLY LAND

THE TEMPLE AREA, JERUSALEM, from the north. The ground occupied by Solomon's Temple has been accurately preserved by its walls, but the temple itself was destroyed and rebuilt repeatedly, as the city fell into the hands of enemies and was recaptured. The large building is the Mosque of Omar, or Dome of the Rock, built in the seventh century by Amir Abdalmalek, and is a noted Mohammedan shrine. Its site is that originally covered by Solomon's Temple.

SACRED CONCERT AFTER THE LENTEN SEASON

The committee in charge of the fourth degree exemplification under the auspices of Bishop Delany assembly of this city, met last night and furthered plans for the big event which is to take place in the Memorial Auditorium on May 4. It was voted to hold a sacred concert soon after the Lenten season, Mrs. Ella Reilly being named to look after the program. Plans for a stage party were also discussed and a committee consisting of James E. Donnelly, Edward F. Slattery, Jr., Patrick J. Nevins and Thomas J. Tobin, was appointed to have charge of the choir at the exemplification ceremonies on May 4th. The next committee meeting will be held Tuesday night of next week.

EFFECT OF DREAMS

There is no doubt that at times some forms of bodily disease, which are a real menace to health, are disclosed by dreams.

What are caused by the psychologists as recurrent dreams are sometimes, in certain types of persons, a real indication of a trouble or disease.

Recurrent dreams are those which apparently are able to focus the dream world or thought, which is our real world while we sleep, on the existent trouble.

In one case, the dream came to the sleeper every few nights for a period of two weeks. He felt a gnawing sensation in the abdominal region. The dream would always cause him to awake and at times, he admitted he even felt pain, where the gnawing sensation occurred.

The attending physician decided to try the X-ray and an ulcer was discovered and a successful operation performed.

There is no doubt that dreams are frequently caused by some glandular trouble.

Where such dreams occur and are recurrent, a glandular diagnosis should be made. If the one afflicted is at all in doubt as to some trouble that affects the physical health.

Can Any Knowledge Benefit You More Than This?

Is there anything of more value to you than that of knowing everything about the food you eat? How it is made—and from what it is made?

If you knew the source of certain foods, you probably would not eat them. Take, for example, the fat you use to fry your foods. As you know, the flavor of the food and its digestibility depend on the FAT used to fry the food.

Isn't it a pleasant thought to know that the tremendous popularity of Mazola is due to the fact that it is a pure vegetable oil from an edible source.

By edible source is meant that Mazola comes from the hearts of golden corn. If you like "corn-on-the-cob" you can't help liking Mazola.

Mazola is not a grease—and does not make fried foods greasy. It is a wholesome, pure fat—an oil that is so palatable and health-giving that many mothers give a spoonful or two to their growing children.

Every can of Mazola reaches you in a sealed-tight, sanitary tin, and you, the consumer, are the first person to touch its contents.

Once you try the modern method of frying with Mazola you will never go back to using grease.

AN IMPORTANT FACT

"Mazola is as delicious and good to eat as the corn from which it comes."

Helpful Advice to Overworked Women

MRS. C. E. CHAPMAN
1520 ELM ST., NEW ALBANY, IND.

DAY in and day out, week in and week out the tired, over-worked housewife and mother toils on, sweeping, dusting, cooking, cleaning and mending. Is it any wonder that after a time a weakness, such as Mrs. Chapman had, develops and the wife and mother pays a toll in physical weakness and pain for her efforts of love, the natural result of overwork?

Women who find themselves afflicted with weakness, pain, headaches, backache, nervousness, irritability and melancholia will be interested in Mrs. Chapman's letter, and should realize that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is especially adapted to overcome such conditions.

Mrs. Chapman's Letter Reads as Follows:

NEW ALBANY, IND.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a weakness which many women have from over work, and from which I suffered for quite a while. It wasn't fit to do my work and my sister advised me to take this medicine. After the first few days the pains were not so severe as they had been and after taking a few bottles I am not bothered any more. I am doing my housework every day and highly recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman suffering from female trouble. Only yesterday a friend called me on the phone and knowing what it did for me wanted to know what to ask for at the drug-store, so she meant to give it a trial."—MRS. C. E. CHAPMAN, 1520 Elm Street, New Albany, Indiana.

Another Case of Nervous Breakdown

MEMPHIS, TENN.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting, I could not do any of my work except a little at a time and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw a little book on to my porch and in it I read of a testimonial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and before I had taken the bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a new woman. I took a whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles and then a whole of three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."—MRS. O. J. HICKLEY, 475 1/2 E. Georgia St., Memphis, Tenn.

BERGDOLL PREPARING TO COME TO "FACE MUSIC"

BERLIN, March 26.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll was believed today to be on the first stage of his return to the United States to "face the music" for his evasion of military service during the World War.

He left Eberbach yesterday for an unknown destination, carrying considerable luggage, after making preparations which indicated that he did not contemplate returning. Friends stated that the Badenese government, which was not keen to retain him as a resident had issued a certificate of American citizenship enabling him to cross the frontier.

His departure was in the direction of Frankfurt and it was believed he would take a train for Hamburg and there board a steamship for New York. With him was his faithful shadow and chauffeur, Eugene Stecher.

GREEK INDEPENDENCE DAY OBSERVED

The 193d anniversary of the first independence of the Greek nation was not generally celebrated in Lowell and vicinity yesterday, but many members of the Greek colony remembered the day and its meaning to the country of their birth.

The first anniversary was celebrated as such by decision and order of the orthodox patriarch of Constantinople, and the Greek government of Athens, and not according to the old Greek calendar. On March 21, 1821, the Greek nation broke the oppression of the Ottoman yoke and independence was declared in national assembly.

Greece has dismissed government by royalty today and is on its way to the formation of a democratic government.

"TWIN BEDS" ARE THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lowell's laughing at "Twin Beds" this week, the side-splitting farce being the vehicle of the new L. R. Barry-Holtz players at the Academy. The new company is well up to expectations and they put the show over with a kick in every line. Miss Shirlee Deane, the leading woman, is a revelation in the role and is winning many friends daily at the two performances. The patronage has been well up to expectations and the advance demand for seats has been heavy.

Joseph Flynn, the leading man of the company, won many friends the opening night and added to this group the two performances of yesterday. He is certain to prove a big local favorite. Vessie Farrell is another luminary that is making a great hit while the irresistible Charlie McDonald doesn't fail to bring down the house.

The play is a hummer from start to finish and abounds in snappy lines and delicately humorous situations as the name might intimate. Seats may be had by phoning the Academy. The seat sale for "The Cat and Canary," next week's bill, has already started. The great musical comedy, "Irene," will follow.

RIALTO THEATRE

Thrills! Laughter! They run a dead heat in the most exciting and ludicrous picture that Douglas MacLean, the star of stars, has yet appeared, and it is worth two dollars of anybody's money to see him in "Going Up," which has been adapted from the famous Broadway stage success and which will open at the Rialto theatre Thursday.

In "Going Up," MacLean is seen as Robert Street, the author of the year's most popular novel, "Going Up." In spite of the fact that Street is the author of this book, in reality he knows nothing about aeroplanes, but refuses to speak of it when he meets and falls in love with Grace Douglas, who just dotes on aviators. While at a summer resort where Street is being honored, since the guests assume that he is a capable flier, he is forced to keep up the bluff. Everything is quite all right until Jules Galliard, a famous French ace, and Street's dangerous rival, arrives on the scene in his aeroplane. Friends of the two, anxious to see them exhibit their skill and curious to know which is the better flier, arrange a match race. Of course, right here is where the fun begins. Street is afraid to tell them he cannot fly, fearing such a revelation will ruin his chances with Grace. How he extricates himself from this embarrassing predicament and wins the race, will keep any audience in continual laughter from start to finish.

No one will doubt MacLean's ability as a comedian after they see him in "Going Up." He'll make you laugh until you'll cry. Others in the cast include, Hallam Cooley, Marjorie Hawley, Marie Mack, Wade Foster and Edna Murphy.

Richard Talmadge, who is the star of "Let's Go," is seen in it that courage and daring will never be old-fashioned. There is practically no stunt this star cannot perform and he does them himself. Having doubled for five years for all of the famous stars in the pictures, he has kept daily in training. As a star himself he could only be doubled over his dead body. Richard Talmadge does not spare himself. He writes into his pictures all of the stunts he performs, figures the mechanics of them and directs himself in all of these daring episodes. For one solid week he performed one hazard after another in "Let's Go" until an injury to his ankle laid him and the entire production up for four weeks. Supporting him in this picture are Johnnie Porter, Tully Marshall and George Nichols as members of an exceptionally fine cast.

A Fox Sunshine company and a Fox News are also included in the program.

THE STRAND

Colleen Moore's marked versatility may better be appreciated after seeing this young star in her newest screen creation, "Painted People," which will be shown for the last three times at The Strand. As the young lady in "Painted People," Miss Moore made one of her biggest hits. As the young girl of the poor class who eventually becomes a famous actress, Miss Moore again demonstrates her exceptional talent in the silent drama. The second picture of genuine merit on the bill is "The Average Woman," in which Pauline Garon and Harrison Ford are appearing. For the last three days of the week, starting with today's matinee, Reginald Denham's big racing picture story, "Sporting Youth," will be the headline, and the second picture will be "O'Clock in the Morning." You will not miss any of the picture series. "Sporting Youth" is a characteristic Denham production. It has all of the entertaining elements generally seen in pictures of this kind—action and thrills galore, a delightful love romance, and wonderfully interesting characterizations. Denham, as usual, leads the way in them all, and he receives the help of a competent cast, including Laura La Plante, Hallam Cooley, Lucille Ward and others.

Constance Blaney appears in "Three O'Clock in the Morning," and her work, as usual, is most commendable. The story centers about a young girl of good family, who is fond of gay parties and bright lights. Her fiancé accompanies her on these all-night parties, not because he is fond of them, but rather to be near his sweetheart. The danger of it and the ultimate results are cleverly told in this story.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

"Shadows of Paris," starring the noted actress, Pola Negri, in one of her most amazing productions, is playing to large crowds at the Merrimack Square theatre. The hazards of the performer in riding around in a steel cage on motorcycles haven't been duplicated in local stage annals. It is one of the snappiest of acts, and one which will raise any audience. The title "Four," colored fingers and dancers, produce wonderful harmonies and novel steps. They close the bill in a specially effective manner. In one of the prettiest of settings, Neil Mark and Vera Valmer give "A Writing Room Wrangle," which is comedy and music and some effective dancing. Hall & Porter do about everything in their mixture of fun, music and tripping white Lamb & O'Neal are the best debaters the local bills have known for a long time. Even the musical act has unusual merit, for the Dymonts are dancing jugglers who do odd things. "The Drivin' Pin" is the week's picture and it is filled with unusualities.

All Excess Fat

Do you know that there is a simple, harmless, effective remedy for excess fatness that may be used safely and secretly by any man or woman who is losing the slimness of youth? There is; and it is none other than the tablet form of the now famous Marmolin Prescription Tablets. You can well expect to reduce steadily and easily, without going through long seiges of tireless exercise and starvation diet. CORN

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit. Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.—Adv.

GRIPPE WEAKNESS

It is a fact that those who are careful to keep well-nourished and the resistance normal, are best able to avoid or prevent the prostrating effects of gripe or similar infection.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

a name familiar on the lips of tens of thousands, is used today and every day to help nourish and strengthen. If Scott's Emulsion is now helping tens of thousands realize freedom from gripe, coughs, colds—why not let it do as much for you?

THE WHITE HOUSE CAT
Now President Coolidge has lost his Tom cat And no one can tell who's to blame for that; But where G. O. P. leaders so frequently call, And with hearings on Daugherty, Sinclair and Fall Like some others this feline, we've heard people say Feared a senate subpoena and got out of the way; And yet mingled with grief for the loss of this pet Is the dread he's gone over to La Pelletie.

NO WAGE INCREASE
Mayor Donovan has nailed the economy banner to the mast and decided to stand by his guns to the last. He refuses to concede the demands for an increase in wages in the police and fire departments. He realizes the predicament in which he would find himself if he made an exception in favor of one or two departments and turned down all the others. For the present, therefore, it appears, there will be no material advances in wages. The decision to use the prior revenue fund in meeting the new requirement of the statutes in securing loans is perhaps the best application of that fund that could be made. His Honor insists that the amounts provided for the departments will suffice to keep them running satisfactorily during the year; but in order to attain that end some of them will have to economize as they seldom have done in the past. It is well to keep down government expenditures, particularly during a business depression, provided the work of the municipal department be kept abreast of the times and no important step forward is neglected. But Mayor Donovan to be consistent in his policy should not favor the creation of any new position which would call for needless expenditure of money that might otherwise be advantageously used in granting an increase of wages to the police and firemen, particularly the police.

It is to be regretted that so many people are to be disappointed but at the same time a policy of economy will benefit everybody by keeping down taxes which eventually reach the man who pays rent as well as the one who owns his home.

SEEKING PLATFORM ISSUES
The Outlook has started a movement to secure an expression of popular sentiment in reference to the principal issues that should be embodied in the platforms of the leading political parties in the national campaign. Doubtless, it will secure many expressions of opinion on almost every question on which it seeks information. These include transportation as to consolidation of the railroads, whether this should be compulsory or voluntary, whether the Esch-Cummings act should be continued or whether the railroads should be nationalized with administrative co-operation by workers, shippers and the public in general.

The second question has reference to agricultural relief, the formation of a federal grain export corporation, federal aid for farmers' co-operative associations, federal purchase of wheat, price fixing of staple farm products, further extension of farm credits, development of the St. Lawrence waterways. On all these questions, the Outlook wants an expression of opinion as to approval or condemnation. The other issues submitted are taxation, the tariff, the bonus, prohibition, general welfare, education, labor matters, program of the Ku Klux Klan, super-power transmission, conservation, merchant marine, government reorganization and last of all, foreign relations including the League of Nations, the World Court, League of Nations, the recognition of Russia, the strengthening of the Monroe doctrine, the sale of arms to foreign governments, and cancellation of foreign debts.

In this step the Outlook may be encroaching upon the special field of the Literary Digest. But perhaps it will forestall the necessity on the part of the republican party of advertising far platform issues as did Chairman Will H. Hays in 1920. As for the democratic party, it will have no difficulty in forming a platform as it will have merely to enumerate the blunders and grafting of the republican regime and point with pride to the success of the democratic administration during the World War and the subsequent years in which the Graham smelting committee appointed by the republicans was unable to unearth a single scandal that would stand the scrutiny of the courts. We presume that not alone democrats but many republicans would suggest a brief but significant platform in the four words, "Turn the Rascals Out."

McLEAN'S ATTACK
Now it is Edward R. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, the administration organ, that turns upon the republican party leaders in a scathing attack in which he deplores the absence of great leaders as evidenced in the present situation at Washington. Here is a part of the onslaught:
"What is the matter with the republican leaders? Can it be true that they are trembling for fear that further revelations will confirm the truth of what now seems to be infamous calumnies? Or are they craven wacklings who are afraid to stand up for truth and right, because of a selfish desire to keep their own individual names out of the current scandals? One or the other suppositions seems to be the truth.
"Scoundrels or moral cowards—it is a hard alternative and the people shrink from imposing judgment. But the people will not wait forever."
If they are doing what the Washington paper here intimates, they are only striving to save themselves and their friends from exposure and perhaps, like McLean, some of them are willing to prevaricate to serve the same purpose.

CENSORING SHOWS
Mayor Curley of Boston is taking an active part in eliminating objectionable features of picture shows and other entertainments offered in the Boston theatres. While censorship is not expedient or advisable, it seems that occasionally one or two theatres will descend to a form of sensationalism that brings discredit upon themselves and others. Thus it is the indulgence of a few that injures the many and offers ground for argument in favor of state censorship.

NEGRO REPUBLIC
Six million negroes are now members of the Universal Negro Improvement association. They want "a black republic in Africa." Liberia, modeled on this idea, has proved a failure. That may have been due to its location and resources. "Africa for the black man" is a logical slogan, though a far-off dream.

We have heard of fruit dealers painting apples red but the latest thing in this line is discovered in Philadelphia, where fish dealers painted salmon red in order to command a higher price. Such an offense borders upon deliberate poisoning and, of course, calls for punishment befitting such a crime.

And now the City Institution for Savings is to erect a new new building in which to conduct its business. Already, the bank buildings of Lowell are a credit to the city and this new one planned with double the height recently erected by local banks.

The high school band will be disappointed, of course, but the remedy is to reach a higher musical status, so that neither the band nor any of its members can be barred on such occasions on the ground of being amateurs.

Might Have Happened
An autoist was recently grabbed by a motor-raider out on the boulevard. "Why didn't you stop when I first signaled to you?" demanded the officer. "Seemed a pity to stop her seeing it took me two hours to get her started," he explained, and the officer said, "I'm sorry," and gave him a clasp. The last part of this story seems doubtful.—Los Angeles Times.

Metallic Family
"Strange case of heredity in that family," mused Jones. "I know it that," mused Brown. "Well, one of the boys has a golden tenor voice, one is in the prize ring and has a tin ear, one is a press agent with all the brass in the world, one is a silver-tongued orator, one is a silver-tongued orator, one is a copper—"

Just Guarding It
"Sir Basil Zaharoff, who has succeeded the Blanc family, as the principal of Monte Carlo," said a Chicagoan, "took me one night to the Monte Carlo Casino. He halted a while at a roulette table. An Englishman was winning tremendously there. Finally the man cashed in. 'Goodness!' I said. 'What a haul that lucky bird has made!' 'Oh, said Sir Basil. That's nothing. It makes no difference to the Casino. It's just a matter of our money sleeping out for the night.'"

Good Place to Fish
He was an enthusiastic angler and thought he would seek a new neighborhood in which to try his skill. After tramping about for a good many miles he came to a fair-sized pond in some low-lying fields. "Ah!" he said, with the keen eye of an old sportsman, "I'll have a shot at this." He had been fishing for an hour when a rustic passed him and stared in open-mouthed astonishment. "I say, boy," he said, "are there any fish here?" "I don't know sir; if there are any they must be very small." "Why?" asked the fisherman. "Because," said the other, "until the heavy rain yesterday there weren't no pond!"

Appealing to Reason
"This theory of governing children by appealing to their reason isn't all it's made out to be," said a public school teacher recently. "A youngster needs a good spanking once in a while; it cheers up a child as nothing else will. Here is an instance. One of my boys had skipped his class, and caused much unhappiness all round. I took him aside, and we had a heart-to-heart talk. Johnny sat still, looking at me intently and seeming to be deeply impressed. I thought I was making great headway, and that my theory was being substantiated. Johnny's grin, I never saw a child who seemed so absorbed, even fascinated, by my line of argument. But you can never tell. Just as I had reached the climax in my appeal to his better self a light of discovery broke over Johnny's face. 'Please, teacher,' he said, eagerly, 'it's your lower jaw that moves isn't it?'"

Sugar Making
There are moments filled with rapture as of silver bells that chime. When the mind goes drifting, drifting, With its sunny slopes and meadows of my childhood's happy time, And the golden days too beautiful to last, And the one from recollection of the happy long ago, Round the corner of my memory lingers still. When the spiced buds are swelling, and the pussy willows blow, And they tap the sugar maples on the hill!

For each mile along the pathway There's a patch of blue above, And the sun between the clouds is looking down; And it seems like fairy fingers, with a tender touch of love, Have bestowed upon each hill a glory crown. So my mind goes drifting, drifting to the hills of woolly birds, As the flowers peep beside the woodland rill; All of life is one fine poem running on in sweetest words, And they tap the sugar maples on the hill! —ALONZO RICE, in Indianapolis News.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN
Much has been written about self-taught, self-made men, but there has recently come upon the public horizon a man who has been always regarded as a deep student of history, current events and all that has pertained to the development of civilization. I refer to John H. McNabb, the well-known laundry proprietor, whose public addresses within a week or two have met with such unstinted approval. Manly, few men are better equipped than McNabb. For years he has traversed the literary world, has read with avidity and enthusiasm the great authors and reading them, has garnered a storehouse of information, enlightening, educational and to the listener, most fascinating. I have known him for many years and I have always had a profound respect for his knowledge of men and the great events that are compressed in the printed historical page. An hour with him reflects a mind keenly developed in the finer literary things of the day, and his remarkable memory serves well in giving his hearers a delightfully interesting evening. My only regret is that more young men are not availing themselves of the opportunity afforded to educate and enlighten themselves in the matter of acquiring knowledge from good reading.

Speaking of John McNabb, I believe there were but few of us who were privileged to peek into his book shop in Church street, where once foregathered a reading circle, unnamed, but rather a credit to the city. The club had as members some well known men, McNabb's back shop. Some of the men who sat in and discussed the literature and their contributions were the late James L. Mellon, principal of the Lincoln school, the late Cyrus Durgin, principal of the Normal school; the late John Tablin, former professor of chemistry; John A. McKenna, former secretary of the board of the poor office; Frank J. Harte, agent of the board of health; and others whom I do not recall just now.

As I look over those names, my mind reverts to many an engaging chat I had with the late James Mellon, himself a Harvard man, a great student and lover of the finest English works of the day. It is a great pity that more do not go in for reading books. The tendency of the day to chase the silences of the day to chase the silences of good books a lost art and diversion. Libraries are everywhere for the enlightenment of the public, and we have in Lowell fine examples of the self-made, self-taught, interesting man, whose only aim was to be a good book and whose only ambition was to fortify himself with facts and figures, which, after all, contribute to education.

Everybody who has heard "Al" Forrest play the organ at the Strand recognizes in him a musical devotee of more than ordinary ability. Now Mr. Forrest has turned his attention to composing music, and in this field also he gives promise of success. His first composition "Gee, But I'm Glad I Met You" was auspiciously introduced at the Y.M.C.A. by Charlie Koyes a short time ago and met with instantaneous success.

Many people have inquired of me the name of the police officer who has been doing traffic duty in the square during the extended absence of "Jack" McNulty, the efficient custodian of traffic in that locality. His worthy substitute is Jim Morrison, and he gets along admirably with his difficult task. Officer McNulty has sufficiently recuperated from his recent illness to resume his duties in the department. He is doing trench duty at present and is feeling splendid.

HELD WHIST PARTY
Lowell command, B.G.W.V., entertained with whist last evening, in three church on Middlesex street. Attendance was large and the prize winners were Mary Scott, Sarah Scott and D. J. Chassey. An entertainment concluded the program, those taking part including Commander Jones, Byrnes, Chassey, Mrs. M. Morse, Mrs. A. Cole, Mrs. C. Whittier and Mrs. M. Bradley.

PNEUMONIA ENDS PELLETIER'S LIFE
Former District Attorney III Only Week, Passed Away Early Last Evening Storm Center for Quarter of Century—Had Just Started Fight for Convention Seat

BOSTON, March 25.—Ex-District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier of Suffolk county died at 6.30 last night after a week's illness from pneumonia. The end was not expected, as Mr. Pelletier was critically ill during the day and his doctors held out little hope for recovery.

At his bedside in his home, 840 Beacon street, when he passed away were his three brothers, Louis, Augustin and Victor. The funeral will take place Friday from Mr. Pelletier's late residence, 498 Beacon street, to be followed by a high mass of requiem at St. Cecilia's church, Belvidere street at 10 a. m. The interment will be private.

His death ends one of the most active and in many ways spectacular political careers seen in Massachusetts in a generation. That he had little warning of his abrupt end was manifested only a few days ago when he filed papers seeking certification as delegate to the democratic national convention. Death stepped in to block this and his other plans.

Dr. M. J. Cronin, his attending physician, said that Mr. Pelletier did not relapse into unconsciousness until last night. He said he was found to be suffering from pneumonia a week ago yesterday, and that the next day pleurisy set in. All efforts to stop the course of the disease were fruitless, and he sank rapidly.

Storm Center For 25 Years
Few figures in the political life of the Bay State in the last 25 years have been greater public storm centers than was Joseph C. Pelletier. His services in public office covered a long term of years, ranging from minor appointments to his election as district attorney of Suffolk county in 1909, where he served until his sensational trial and removal from office in 1922 by the supreme judicial court on charges of malfeasance, misfeasance and non-feasance.

Mr. Pelletier was born in the Roxbury district of Boston and lived there until about a decade ago, when he removed and established his home at 840 Beacon street. A capable scholar, he held from rank in his school and college classes, and his interest in the handling of boys and girls developed so that in 1901, shortly after his graduation from Boston College, he was made superintendent of the Marcella street home.

During this period he prepared for his examinations, which he passed in 1904. He was admitted to practice the following year.

Interested in Children
During the next few years, Mr. Pelletier served various boards of trustees of children's institutions about Boston, showing a particular interest in juvenile delinquents.

In 1906 he was appointed by Gov. Douglas to the civil service commission and was reappointed to this post subsequently by Govs. Gull and Draper. He remained on the commission until 1909, when he resigned to enter more actively into politics.

In 1909 Pelletier became a candidate for the democratic nomination for the district attorneyship of Suffolk county, and easily won the nomination at the convention. He was elected over Arthur D. Hull without difficulty. Indeed, during the final two terms of his service as Suffolk county district attorney he was given joint nomination by both republican and democratic parties in Boston for that office.

During the next three years the district attorney became considerable of a public figure. He prosecuted the famous Richey murder case, which resulted in the imposition of sentence of death upon Rev. Clarence V. Richey for the murder of Avin Linnell.

His pronouncements with regard to reform in the handling juvenile delinquents, his war upon pickpockets and the underworld of Boston kept him continuously in the headlines.

In 1912 he took out papers for the democratic nomination for governor,

The NEANTRY
Perhaps poor mother works all day to get the house in shape. She likes to have it looking trim and fit. And when she's done, she isn't, but she's in an awful scrape, 'cause tiny meddling hands have ruined it. And, too, she'll likely toll an hour to put her hair up right; to make it stay the way it ought to be. Then, suddenly, it loses all its style and is a fright because these hands have pulled the hair plus free. The bedroom closet's tidied up; she's laid all things away. The shoes, the gowns and other things all placed. And then a little tiny miscreant shows over that way, and soon the whole affair is much disgraced. In living-room, in dining-room, throughout the "Home, Sweet Home," from one end to the other, sounds are heard. A cheerful little laughter, while the baby's on its roam, announces that more wrecking has occurred. Does mother mind these baby pranks, and does it make her mad? Well, hardly, folks! She takes such things with ease. The fact that baby's learned to creep has only made her glad, and tiny hands can do just as they please. (Copyright, 1924, The Lowell Sun) but lost to Eugene N. Foss, and remained district attorney.

Aims at Governorship
In 1917 first rumblings of the sensational climax of Pelletier's public career came to notice. Rev. Frederick B. Allen, president of the Watch and Ward society, filed charges against Pelletier in the state supreme court, urging his removal from office. The movement was without result.

During the period between 1917 and 1921, however, the bitter warfare between Pelletier and the Watch and Ward society intensified, and the chief of police reached when Mr. Pelletier joined issue in the courts over the theft of certain papers from the office of Daniel H. Conkley.

Court proceedings were protracted, and the activities of forces hostile to Pelletier increased. A secret investigation of his conduct of office was undertaken by the Boston Bar association.

Finally, in the fall of 1921, Attorney Gen. J. Weston Allen, acting on information proffered by the Bar association, lodged an information against Pelletier in the supreme judicial court alleging malfeasance, misfeasance and non-feasance in office, and demanding that Pelletier be removed.

Mr. Pelletier responded on Dec. 12 with a general denial of the charges, and 15 days later the trial began. It was the most sensational trial in the recent annals of the history of the Massachusetts judiciary. Though it had been preceded by the trial and removal from office of Nathan A. Tufts, district attorney for Middlesex county, through the agency of Mr. Allen as attorney general, the Pelletier trial easily eclipsed the Tufts trial in the interest it stirred up.

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, one of the ablest lawyers in the United States and master of eloquence, was summoned to act for the defense. Mr. Allen represented the state. The trial began on Dec. 23, 1921, and it lasted through the month of January, 1922.

On Feb. 21, 1922, the supreme court of the state returned its decision. Out of 32 cases presented in the original information against Pelletier, 11 had been dropped in the trial. Of the remainder, the supreme court found decision of guilty in 10 out of 21 specified.

Mr. Pelletier was ordered removed from his office summarily. He was disbarred from practice before the courts of the United States. His removal and disbarment, however, did not remove him from the field of political activity. He plunged into the campaign for mayor of Boston shortly afterward and conducted a vigorous fight all over the city. Then at a few minutes before the ball officially expired, he created an other sensation by dropping out of the mayoral battle in favor of James M. Curley.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL

Move to Bridge $2,500,000-000 Gap Between Two Sets of Estimates

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The senate finance committee sought again today to bridge the $2,500,000,000 gap between two sets of government estimates as to the probable cost of the soldier bonus bill passed by the house. Joseph McCoy, government actuary, who figured the bill would cost $1,850,750,078, and H. J. Brown, veterans' bureau actuary, whose figures were used by the house in estimating the cost of the bill at $2,119,000,000, both were asked to appear before the committee. Two main differences have developed in their calculation. Mr. McCoy figured the government would have to pay interest on all funds appropriated for payment of the bonus, and Mr. Brown argued no such expenditure would be necessary if the government should invest in outstanding government bonds the funds it would appropriate for the sinking fund with which to pay for the bonus at the end of 20 years. They also differed on the average number of days of service for veterans. Upon conclusion of the hearings the committee will resume work on the revenue bill.

Carl Fontano, Alleged Gang Leader, Arrested in Chicago—Search for Pals

CHICAGO, March 26.—Carl Fontano, alleged gang leader, is under arrest and a police search is being made for 11 gangsters in connection with the $150,000 registered mail pouch robbery at Harvey yesterday by four bandits, who escaped in an automobile, after exchanging shots with pursuers. Police say Fontano owns the machine which the bandits abandoned near West Hammond. He declared that the machine was stolen from his home while he slept yesterday but members of his family state he was away from home at the time of the robbery, officers say. When apprehended, Fontano was limping the doors of his garage. Near the abandoned car postal inspectors found $4000 in one dollar bills, parts of the shipment of money contained in the registered pouches which held payrolls for more than 2000 employees of Harvey industries.

throat and struck on the jaw after she had been assaulted. The police have had description of the murderer, furnished by the victim's mother, who saw him twice. She first saw the youth when he drove up in a sedan motor car and offered to assist Mrs. Bauer, whose car had stuck in a mud puddle into which he had driven a few minutes before to avoid colliding with a motor truck. The motorist took Mrs. Bauer into his car, saying he would drive her to a nearby house to get a rope with which he would pull her car from the mud. The mother, Mrs. Mary Pera, next saw the youth a half hour later when he drove his car by her at a furious pace. Suspicious, she walked down the road a thousand feet and came upon the body of her daughter.

Every ferry communication between the Brooklyn and Manhattan shores was closely guarded throughout the night, and passengers scrutinized by police and detectives. A general police alarm was sent out and a description of the suspect forwarded to nearby cities in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. The police said that robbery was not the motive, declaring that the woman's purse, containing some money, had not been rifled.

Mrs. Bauer's husband, who is a mechanical engineer, had left home but a few hours before the murder for Detroit, where he was to have taken a job with a motor company.

Ordinances to Divide Charity Dept. Defeated

the charity department passed at the meeting, which is the ordinance changing the method of distributing foodstuffs and fuel in the division of outdoor relief by accepting the store order check system. Prominent local charities were in favor of this and it passed with only three dissenting votes.

The mayor's veto of the 1924 salary ordinance which provided for increases for six departmental heads was submitted to the council and will come up for action at the expiration of seven days.

The session got under way at 9:10 o'clock. Councilors Chasgrove and McFadden were absent.

Councilor Sadlier suggested that the charity division ordinance be left on the table.

Councilor Genest said he believed some action should be taken at once. Councilor Dickson spoke along the same lines.

The motion to keep the ordinance on the table was lost 7 to 6, with Councilors Chadwick, Chretien, Dickson, Gallagher, Genest, Lambert and Stearns voting against it.

Councilor Sadlier moved a recess, but Councilor Fitzgerald moved adjournment, which was voted.

It was beaten by the same lineup of 7 to 6. Councilor Chretien said he was prepared to vote at once on the ordinance and urged immediate action.

Councilor Sadlier again moved for a five-minute recess and when President Gallagher moved over to the side of Councilors Daly, Fitzgerald, Hennessey, McPadden, Moriarty and Sadlier the recess motion prevailed.

After the recess the ordinance went to a vote and on a roll-call was beaten, 8 to 5 with two absent. Councilors who voted against it were: Chadwick, Chretien, Dickson, Gallagher, Hennessey, Lambert, Genest and Stearns. In favor were: Daly, Fitzgerald, McPadden, Moriarty and Sadlier.

Councilor Sadlier gave notice of reconsideration at the next meeting and then moved that when the council adjourns it adjourns to meet next Thursday night. Passed.

Reporting for the committee on ordinances Councilor McPadden reported a majority of his committee in favor of the ordinance which would change over the method of distributing foodstuffs and fuel in the charity department outdoor relief.

The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 4. In opposition were Councilors Chadwick, Dickson and Genest.

Traverse Jurors Drawn

Traverse jurors were drawn as follows: By Councilor Chadwick: Bill R. Hart, 125 Cross street, no occupation; John J. Hartnett, 105 Liberty; operative; John J. Kane, 108 Chapel, operator; Leon E. Sarre, 812 Vermont ave., picture frames; James J. Gallagher, 108 Cumberland road, cigar store.

By Councilor Lambert: Cornelius Hickey, 10 Walnut, clerk; Francis E. Heady, 221 Eldred, carpenter; Alfred J. Gauthier, 36 Lilly ave., blacksmith; Amadee Joan, 39 Melvin, retired; Wm. D. Findley, 147 Forrest, metal worker; William Rafferty, 201 Middlesex, salesman; Joseph P. Ford, 105 Andover, manager; Joseph H. Dubouque, 417 Bridge, clerk; Samuel C. Cunningham, 123 Moore, confectioner.

The mayor returned without his approval of the 1924 salary ordinance. It will remain in the office of the clerk for seven days.

Frank R. Ely, of the police department, was retired on pension, following certifications from the city physician.

Councilor Fitzgerald moved that the city solicitor be asked to present to the council on or before Thursday a written opinion of the status of the present suit of charities in event of the passage of the ordinance for a division of the department and it was so voted.

Adjourned at 10:05 o'clock.

Charged With Larceny

the alleged shoplifters were not residents of this city. Atty. Joseph P. Donahue, counsel for the defense, objected to the heavy bail in which he characterized as a "simple larceny case with the valuation of the alleged stolen goods not exceeding $175." His recommendation that bail be fixed at $600 each, however, was not accepted, as the court said previous experiences in fixing a small bail did not prove advantageous.

The man and woman, claiming relationship as nephew and aunt, were taken into custody yesterday afternoon, and this morning faced the following charges: Larceny of one coat, valued at $30, one pair of pants, valued at $3, one vest valued at $4.50, from Patrick J. Mahoney; larceny of one coat, $10, pants, $7 and vest, $3 from Harry Newman; larceny of one coat, $13, pants $7, and vest $3.75, from the Boston Tailoring Co.; two coats, $25 each, two pairs of pants, $8 each, and two vests, $1 each, from persons unknown. The police think they may connect the two latter thefts with the Talbot Clothing Co.

The couple were arrested in a Central street hotel about 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the result of information given by an unknown man to Lieut. Maher and Inspector John J. Walsh. When the two officers arrived at the Maine apartment, they found the pair apparently unconcerned. They were asked several questions regarding their business in the city and replied that they came here from Boston on a visit.

A search of the room for the missing articles followed, but proved fruitless until Inspector Walsh spied a door leading to another compartment. He requested that the door be opened, and after some hesitancy on the part of the man and the woman, it was. Here the investigators came across the suits of clothes, some of them still resting on the store hangers, and all bearing store labels. A few of them had been neatly packed in a leather traveling bag. The majority of the goods bore the trade mark of the Talbot Clothing Co., while one suit was the property of Patrick Mahoney, Central street clothier. The clothes were taken to the police station together with the alleged shoplifters, and a charge of larceny was lodged against the latter.

When searched at the station, railway guides for New York and other cities were found on the suspects. It is thought they had planned to get away before being apprehended.

Inspector Walsh stated this morning that he was offered $1000 to let the pair go yesterday.

ALLEGED LAND FRAUDS SACCO-VANZETTI CASE

Calm Follows Storm—No Further Sessions to Be Held Until Monday

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The relative calm of a brief session of the senate inquiry into alleged land frauds in the Rio Grande valley of Texas, today followed the storm that broke in its sessions yesterday. The investigators were called together today merely to receive and put into the record a report by Postal Inspector Williamson on alleged methods used in the sale of Cameron and Hidalgo county lands.

RADIO CONCERTS FOR WORLD WAR PATIENTS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—World war patients in government hospitals soon will be helped to while away the hours with radio entertainment.

Director Hines of the veterans' bureau, in an order today, instructed construction agencies of the bureau to equip all government hospitals for radio reception with connections direct to the beds of patients. Civic groups and friends of the sufferers, however, apparently will have to render aid in completing the plan, since no funds are available for purchase of head phones. The money to buy the powerful receiving apparatus is not yet immediately available, but funds are being raised privately in a score of cities, and the director general has given his full approval to the plan.

Barrels of Pistols Used as Evidence in Hearing Interchanged, Says Judge

BEDFORD, March 26.—Judge Thayer in the superior court today made a finding that the barrels of two pistols used as evidence in the hearing of motions for a new trial for Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti for murder, had been interchanged. One of the pistols was that introduced in the trial as having been found on Sacco's person when he was arrested and the other was one used by Albert M. Hamilton, a defense expert, for purposes of comparison.

The court found that the substitution apparently took place in the courtroom during one of the hearings when Hamilton took the two weapons apart and reassembled them. It was ordered that the barrels be changed again and the weapons impounded with the clerk of courts.

Arguments on the motions for a new trial were completed last November. The change in the pistol barrels was discovered in February, and the court immediately began an investigation.

Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted in July, 1921, of the murder of a paymaster and his guard in South Braintree in April, 1920. They have never been sentenced. The first motion for a new trial was denied and their counsel filed numerous supplementary motions which were argued at great length. After a hunger strike and attempted suicide last year, Sacco was committed to a hospital for the insane, but after several months, was declared sane and returned to the Bedford jail.

The defense of the two men has been financed by a defense committee formed by persons who charged that the defendants were not concerned in the murder and had been prosecuted because of their known radical opinions. There have been numerous demonstrations by radicals in Europe and South America in the interests of Sacco and Vanzetti.

The Blue's aquatic stars until this year had held the league championship in 13 of the 14 seasons in the circuit. The team had won 11 titles and had claimed an unbroken string of triumphs. QUART OF WATER A DAY HELPS KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Also Take a Little Salts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then be out of it.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus after relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts can't injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

BIG TEN BASKETBALL, SEASON OF THRILLS

Basketball competition has been exceptionally keen in the Western Conference this season. Close scores, last minute victories, and even overtime periods have been the general order. Walkaway triumphs have been few and even farther between. Michigan, especially, has added through a tough list of battles. It won six games and lost as many. But in getting an even break, the Wolverines were forced to fight to the last ditch to hang up Blue, in nine of its 12 games, found the final score in doubt practically up until the last whistle. Of these nine frays, five were victories. Four of them, the verdict was by a scant one-point margin; two others were by two points, and one each by three, four and five points.

Another thing—Michigan, in the above-mentioned nine contests, scored 214 points, which was the same total that the opposition accrued. If that isn't playing them pretty close—then the dope's all wrong. Among the other Big Ten schools spirited battles were likewise the big noise. Ohio State was in several tough encounters, as were also Chicago, Indiana, Illinois, Purdue and so on. Fact is, not one team in the entire body went through the season with less than three close games on its schedule.

One of the hardest fought tilts was that between Illinois and Northwestern. It went three overtime sessions, Illinois finally winning, 36 to 35. That took the cake. Incidentally, it was a tough one for the Purple to drop. It was the closest it came to a Big Ten victory this season.

CARPENTIER-GIBBONS BOUT JULY 4

CHICAGO, March 26.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul challenger for the world's heavyweight championship and Georges Carpentier, French light heavyweight, will meet July 4, either at Michigan City, Ind., or Benton Harbor, Mich., according to articles signed here yesterday.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, representing promoters of the bout, posted $10,000 as insurance that it will be staged. Jack Currier, Carpentier's American representative, posted $5000 and Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, put up a like amount.

The conditions stipulate that Carpentier shall receive $70,000, with a privilege of 25 per cent. of the receipts. He has been advanced $5000 for training expenses. Gibbons will receive 30 per cent. of the gross receipts, and $5000 for training.

The principals must be on the ground at least a month before the bout, and must not engage in a contest during that period. Carpentier is expected to arrive from France some time in May.

Because the Indiana law prohibits prize fights, but permits boxing contests, Fitzsimmons intends to take a set of articles to Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana for the executive to determine whether the bout would be with in the law. Fitzsimmons has until May 10 to name the scene of the contest.

CANDLELIGHT BALL PLANS COMPLETED

The committee of the Lowell Association met yesterday afternoon to complete arrangements for the Candlelight ball at Whistler house next Friday evening to commemorate the hundredth anniversary of the building of the house. Mrs. William B. Goodwin, committee chairman, said that nearly all of the tickets have been left with the custodian at the house to dispose of.

Chairman Joseph A. NeSmith has arranged as a special feature an exhibition of portraits of men and women prominent in the real history of the community. In addition to the dancing there will be whist and mah jong tables on the second floor in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. Harry Pollard.

RESUME DISCUSSION OF WAGE SCALES

BALTIMORE, Md., March 26.—Discussion of wage scales to be inserted in the new contract for the Northern West Virginia Bituminous Field, was resumed here today when representatives of the miners and operators reconvened their joint conference after their second recess since the negotiations were begun.

Working conditions having been agreed upon last week, the wage scale is the only remaining point at issue, and members of both groups expressed themselves as confident that an accord would be reached before April 1, when the new contract will go into force.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT

PINEHURST, N. C., March 26.—Miss Glenn Collett of Providence, present titleholder, went into the second round of match play here today in the 22d annual north and south women's golf tournament with the assurance that she would have to battle her way through a brilliant field to retain the championship.

Most of the winners in the eight matches of the first round of the championship fight yesterday afternoon played high class golf but Miss Collett, playing championship golf is expected to retain her honors. She won easily from Mrs. Charles Daniels, Buffalo, N. Y., 5 and 4.

LENTEN DRAMA UNDER NAVY CLUB AUSPICES

The Mission Players of Roxbury will present "Pilate's Daughter," the famous Lenten drama, in the Memorial Auditorium April 22 and 23, under the auspices of the Lowell Navy club. At a meeting of the Navy club Monday Skipper Emerson announced that all arrangements for the presentation had been completed and the meeting given over to a discussion of plans for the sale of tickets and other details concerning the presentation of this show.

"Pilate's Daughter" is a story of the early days of Christianity and is often compared with the Passion Play of Oberammergau. The characters in this play have given it in Roxbury for many years and, while they are amateurs, their acting is equal to that of professionals.

MEETING OF MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES' UNION

A well attended meeting of Lowell Municipal Employees' union was held in Trades and Labor hall, Central street last evening. After routine matters were disposed of, there was a social hour. President Daniel Moynihan called the meeting to order.

Several communications relative to union affairs, were read and action taken in the usual way. Members voted to endorse the candidacy of Maj.

George L. Berry, popular in the printer's fraternity, and a visitor in Lowell last year, and who is now in the running for the democratic nomination for vice president. The Lowell municipal employees assembled last evening also went on record as favoring the Fitzgerald-Jones bill which provides compensation for workmen in the District of Columbia.

Quarterly reports were received from Secretary Donnelly and Treasurer Higgins and were of a very favorable nature. Ten new members were initiated last night.

Entertainers during the social hour included the Misses Burke and Wright, dances; Joseph Hughes and John Day, songs; Charles O'Brien, readings.

After the business meeting, there were songs by Mrs. Anna Roth Large.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

"So you want to join your boy friends on the Boy Scout ship," smiled the old hermit. "Well, I knew that boat was coming past here and that's why I had you bring your tent and everything with you on this hike." Then the hermit and Jack built a big fire to signal the oncoming boat.

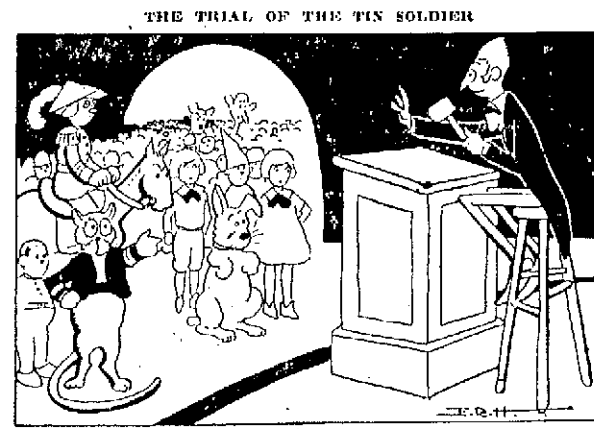

As soon as a curl of smoke was rising in the air, the Boy Scout boat apparently saw it, for the ship turned toward the hermit's island. Jack and the hermit then went down the hill and were soon right at the water's edge. There was a rowboat there and Jack and Flip climbed in.

When the adventurer and his dog were aboard the little craft the hermit gave it a push out onto the stream. "Join your Boy Scouts and return that rowboat to the man who let you take it," said the hermit. And Jack waved goodbye. His next adventure is with the Magic Tube.

MR. PUZZ WUZZ TOOK A HAMMER AND RAPPED LOUDLY.

"You may go on with the trial," declared Mister Fuzz Wuzz, the pincleaner man, in a loud voice. "Nancy and Nick wondered who was to go on with the trial, but by and by the patent-leather cat got up, pulled down his red jacket and stroked his whiskers and said solemnly: 'Ladies and gentlemen, I am here to take the part of the tin soldier. He didn't mean to run over the peanut boy and break his nose.'"

"I object!" barked the rubber dog, "and please don't get me excited or I shall whistle through the top of my head. Perhaps he didn't mean to do it, but he did it just the same and I demand that he be punished."

Mister Fuzz Wuzz took a hammer and rapped loudly. "Order!" he called.

The cat and the dog and all the rest of the Doofunnies became quiet at once.

"I just wanted to say," said the cat switching his long tail, "that the tin soldier never touched the peanut boy. It was his horse."

"Then," spoke up the rubber dog quickly, "let's punish the horse. I insist that somebody be punished for breaking the peanut boy's nose."

"We shall call witnesses," said the cat with dignity. "I can show you that neither the horse nor the soldier were to blame. Will you please to tell your story, Mr. Tin Soldier?"

"Certainly, sir," said the tin soldier, riding up on his tin horse. "But, if you please, I'm a general, sir!"

"Tell your story, please, general," corrected the cat seating himself with dignity and smoothing his white neck ruff.

"What sounds much better," said the general, "it was this way. I was riding along Candy street in Doofunny Land, when, without a bit of warning, the wooden voodoo duck came rushing along as though he had been shot out of a gun. My horse shied to one side and then I heard a crunching. That's the first I knew of the peanut boy being anywhere near me. It was his nose that was being crunched."

"Hear! Hear!" cried the patent-leather cat, springing up. "It is the wooden voodoo duck who should be on trial. It was all his fault!"

"Please call the duck," ordered Mister Fuzz Wuzz.

"Good!" said the dog, and he sat down and everybody else sat down, and the wooden voodoo duck waddled up with a great clatter.

"Quack! Quack!" he declared. "What do you wish me to say?"

"Tell me how you happened to scare the tin-soldier, ahem, the general's horse," commanded Mister Fuzz Wuzz.

"Sure, I will, your honor," said the duck. "But if anyone could have been more scared than I was, he was a dandy."

"Don't say 'I'll say' in this court," thundered Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "No flung is allowed."

"Is this a trial or a grammar class, please?" moved the cat.

Nancy and Nick forgot where they were and laughed.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Man Charged With Maintaining House of Ill-Fame is Held in $500

Woman Held in $300 on Lewd and Wanton Charge

A man and a woman giving the names of Paul and Rose Butler were arrested in a Worthen street house last night and taken to the Lowell district court this morning. The man for maintaining a house of ill-fame, and the woman for being lewd and wanton. Both pleaded not guilty, and were continued until tomorrow. Paul in $500 bonds, and Rose in $300.

Their arrest was brought about after a two-weeks' investigation by members of the liquor and vice squad. After watching the house for more than an hour last night, Officers Alfred J. Conroy, Frank L. Mahoney and Francis J. Moore entered and placed the Butlers under arrest.

Track Walker Pined

The first prosecution in a recently planned crusade of the Boston and Maine railroad to put an end to the practice of walking on the company's railroad tracks, took place this morning when a man was ordered to pay a fine of $5.

Defendant was arrested on the tracks near School street Monday afternoon when he refused to get off the tracks when ordered to do so by Howard G. Simons, sergeant of police for the B. and M. in this district. In commenting on the case, Judge Enright said he has received several notices from the B. and M. management to the effect that they were being needlessly exposed by persons crossing the tracks. The official, he said, asked the co-operation of the court, in discouraging the practice and he promised that he would help in every way possible. "I know there is a great temptation to take a short cut through the railroad yards," he said, "but people must remember that trains are constantly being shifted there, and foot traffic must be stopped. I take this attitude for the benefit of the public as well as for the benefit of the railroad."

Suspect Released

A Wameet street man taken in early last night by Officer Walter L. Kivian and booked as a suspicious person, was allowed to go. The court felt, however, that he was the person responsible for the complaints coming from teachers in the Moody school that a man had been acting disorderly in that vicinity the past few days. He was given to understand that his presence in that neighborhood again would mean a house of correction sentence.

Two Suspended Sentences

Peter F. Curley, who was continued yesterday to await the testimony of his wife, was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction on top of a previous suspended sentence of five months for non-support. The present charge was drunkenness and the suspension was ordered on condition that he leave his wife and contribute $15 weekly to her support.

of requiem was sung by Rev. William A. Robbins, O.M.I., assisted by Very Rev. Lawrence P. Tiche, O.M.I., as deacon, and Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., as sub-deacon.

The Gregorian mass was sung by the choir, Mr. Smith and Mrs. Hugh Walker presiding at the organ. At the offertory Mrs. Walker sang the "Domine Jesu Christe," and as the body was borne from the church the choir sang the "De Profundis." Mr. Smith sustaining the solo.

Morrissey, Alfred Armstrong, Robert Dwyer and Albert Fradette. The honorary pall bearers were John Carragher, Leroy Coggins and James Kennedy.

Present at the funeral were Francis Connor, buildings inspector of the city of Lowell; City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke, and several other city officials. A delegation from the Wameet Power company included Charles Douglass, Walter French, Ezra Bowden and Chas. Goggin. The large attendance at the services included relatives of the deceased from this city, New Jersey, New York and Lawrence. A profusion of floral offerings marked the esteem in which the deceased was held by his friends.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

LIQUOR CASES BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

Ephraim Cote and Omar Thiboutot of Nashua were arraigned this morning before U. S. Commissioner Walsh at the Gorham street court house, charged with illegal possession and transportation of liquor. Through their counsel, James E. O'Donnell, they entered pleas of not guilty.

Officers Sullivan and Hall of the federal prohibition staff and Detectives Winn, Moore and Conroy of the Lowell police liquor squad testified for the government.

At the conclusion of the hearing Thiboutot was found not guilty and discharged. Commissioner Walsh found probable cause against Cote and he was bound over until next Wednesday to obtain acceptable bail for his appearance before the federal court in Boston.

Through an interpreter the defendant testified that they bought two and half gallons of alcohol at 37 Baxter street on March 19 for $15, and it was this liquor they had in their possession. The officers, bound to raid the house mentioned, encountered the two defendants as they were leaving and arrested them. One of the defendants having made the statement under oath on the witness stand, that the alcohol he had in his possession was sold him by Donat Bergeron, Federal Agent Sullivan made it known he would ask for a warrant against Bergeron. Bergeron was once convicted in district court on a liquor law violation. He was arraigned before Commissioner Walsh on a similar charge more than a month ago and through his counsel, George F. Toye, succeeded in having the complaint against him dismissed.

The two cases on the continued calendar from a week ago were both decided in favor of the government. Lewis Goggin, who was the title of "the suitcase bootlegger" when arrested for his suspicious actions on a trolley car a few weeks ago, by Officer Furey, was held in $200 surety for the federal court.

The commissioner has also made a finding of probable guilty in the continued case against Everett L. Clapper of the Park hotel, and he furnished surety in the sum of $500 for his appearance when wanted in the federal court.

Edward McDonald and Patrick H. Shugrue both were represented by E. J. Tierney as counsel and waived preliminary examination. Bail in a similar amount was furnished.

ENTER TWO MORE EVENTS HIGH SCHOOL DINNER

High School Relay Men in Medley and 2-Mile at Big Carnival

In order that the Lowell high school track athletes may be given every opportunity to show to the best possible advantage at the Pennsylvania relay carnival in April, Faculty Manager James P. Conway today entered the school in the interscholastic two-mile relay event and the interscholastic medley relay in addition to the original entry in the one-mile relay championship event.

This does not mean necessarily that the team will participate in all three races, but the opportunity will be there if the coach deems it advisable to send a team to the starting line. The medley for instance will be run on Friday and the one-mile on Saturday, which would give a chance to enter both events without hardship or overwork. In the medley four men run respectively 220, 440, 660 and 880 yards, and in the two-mile event each man covers one-half mile.

Coach Conway today received from Coach Ray A. Shepard of Phillips-Andover academy full permission for the use of the Andover dirt track by the Lowell boys on and after April 8. He also will be very glad to supply dressing rooms and place shower baths at their disposal. Coach Hargreaves will accept this kind offer and probably will hold at least three or four trials before picking his Philadelphia team.

The first outdoor practice for boys who are trying to make the relay team is scheduled for the South common this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

GENERAL MANAGER WAS PINCH HITTER

A humorous little incident featured the Lowell club's first dance last evening when those in charge forgot to bring the keys. However, just as the festivities were threatened by postponement until they could be sent for, Mr. Drew, the popular general manager, appeared to relieve the situation.

The dance was held in the main office of the De Cady corset company with about thirty guests present. The highest degree of praise must be given to the various committees for their excellent planning. The club president, Mac Murphy, had a helping hand for each. Decorations, headed by Mabel Chauson, provoked much favorable comment and an electric "fun" commotion followed. Refreshments provided by a committee headed by Lawrence Lovejoy proved to be satisfying. Punch on hand at all times, with sandwiches, ice cream and fancy cakes on the side.

Haunting held the major attention all evening, but was keenly resented by card games held in the treasurer's office. Rumor seemed to be the favorite. In connection with the affair, the club members desire to express their appreciation for the generosity displayed by the company officials in allowing not only the use of the main offices, but their private ones.

ENLARGED CLEANER CITY COMMITTEE

The first meeting of the enlarged cleaner city committee will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 439 Elm street, according to the notice sent out by the president, J. P. Sullivan. The meeting is important, as it marks the first gathering of the committee of one hundred, projected early in the new year.

The plan of organization of the new committee, meeting dates, and other details will be attended to at this meeting.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IN DISTRICT COURT

Alexander Georgiadis, principal of the local Greek school, was arraigned in district court this morning charged with disturbing a public meeting. After hearing the evidence, Judge Enright fined defendant $5, but later withdrew the fine and continued the case another week.

Georgiadis was arrested by Officer Peter Tsafaras in the Academy of Music during the presentation of a Greek play last Sunday evening. According to the officer's testimony, Georgiadis was smoking while the play was going on and refused to stop when so requested. This morning, he said, the officer did not order him to stop smoking, but simply asked him why he was smoking. He added that he saw people smoking there once before, and was under the impression that it was all right.

"I'm surprised that a man of your position in the community should do such a thing," commented Judge Enright before continuing the case.
